Steer by the Stars

Our national goals have recently caused concern. What are they? Have we lost them? The nation expresses itself through the individual; it is through us that the nation thinks and feels.

These are important years to us as young adults. Eager to learn, we break through the turbid, surrounding stream of life, searching for a foothold—a purpose in life.

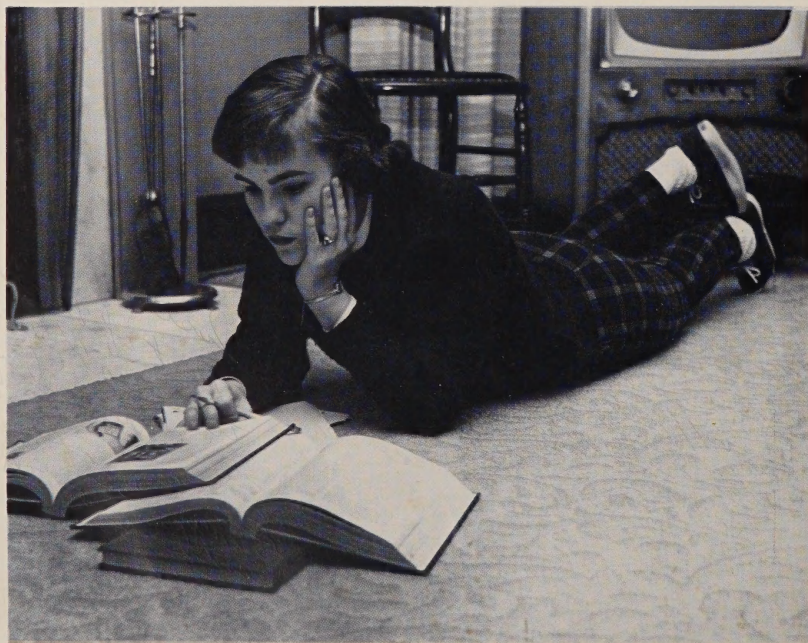

As we seek to develop and enrich ourselves, our aims become clearer, our aspirations surer. Friends guide us when discouragement throws us off. Learning to use our natural talents, we strive to excel, to be recognized and respected.

Our worth, our struggle for ideals, is one of the measures of the nation's wealth. We know what it is to be a good American—more than that, a good person. Our education is a bright, new star to steer by—look to the new star.

HELPING POLIO SUFFERERS, Kay Schwartz sells Easter Seals to Mrs. Hamner.

WE EXPRESS our feelings about our national goals through themes and speeches.

THE PRESIDENTIAL election produces friendly rivalry between Tom Newell and Nancy Kelley.

Sue,
This year in English has been a blast. You really kept it rolling! I hoped that we will be in a couple of classes together next year! Be good!
Don Smith

Sue,
To a good gal with a good sense of humor. Keep it up. Jeff just loves you.

Search for their Understanding

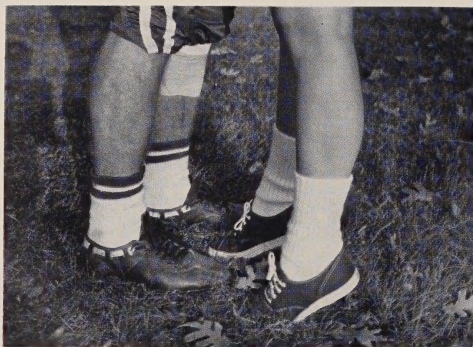

Sharing our hopes and fears with others, we form bonds with things outside ourselves. We seek understanding in others for our enjoyment of life depends upon our relationship with people.

We help and comfort each other, increasing our bonds through mutual good feeling. Friendship means responsibility to others—consideration of their feelings and interest in their aspirations.

Recognized and respected for our true worth, we find in fellowship satisfaction and a sense of belonging. The powerful spirit of youth tempered with the prudence of maturity surges through us, searching for understanding.

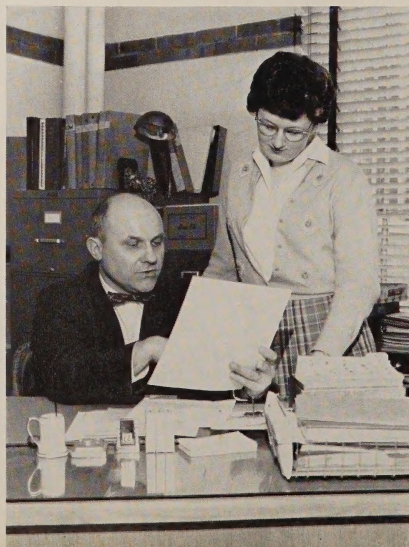

HANS KAESTNER, our American Field Service student, enjoys an evening meal with his host family, the Sandersons.

MUTUAL good feeling!

A FALL AFTERNOON ride deepens our understanding of nature.

OUR FRIENDLY ADVISORS aid us in planning for the future.

Look Within

Awakened by the moving and singing of the world, we quench the thirst of curiosity with the pleasure of discovery. Life unfolds its variety of thoughts and action to us through our senses. Each of us looks within to find what we can offer the world.

Learning and feeling, we seek to develop our senses. Our interests lead us to new discoveries in art, music, literature, and the dance. We discover a rich, lively world in ourselves through stimulation of our minds.

PERFECTION IN MODERN dance demands long hours of practice from Mary Kay Thompson.

*Musie - Have really enjoyed you being in spread. you're a riot. Best of luck always.
Love,
Bonnie*

COMPELLED BY CURIOSITY, we search for knowledge in the thoughts of others.

DETERMINATION, perseverance, and constant rehearsal bring Jean Szepessy closer to mastery of the violin.

MOLDING THEIR CREATIVE energies into tangible form, Randy Potter and Bev Larence blend architectural forms with nature.

JUMPING FOR THE BALL, Bill Banta tries to outdo his opponent.

THE TROPHY CASE symbolizes past accomplishments.

Take the Challenge

Each day the world challenges us again. We take the challenge to do our best. Hard work and perseverance is the way to that goal. Competition spurs us on, stimulating our minds and bodies to make progress. Enthusiasm and ability, and hard work unite in us to help us win in the contest with life.

Recognition and honor, or knowledge and understanding may be our reward, but belief in ourselves is the most lasting one.

Our daily work at school and at home is a constant challenge. Finding the strength, we set our pace toward distant goals.

You're a charming girl. I hope we are in French class, again, next year. Best wishes. Have a great summer.

Thom

FIRST FLOOR PLAN

BY PASSING THE referendum, the voters made possible a new science wing and spectator gym for Peoria High which will meet the needs of our progressing world.

Hold Your Course

We have responsibilities to ourselves and our society. As school citizens we contribute to the good of the school. Good citizenship means tolerance and respect for others.

Upholding and widening the goals of good citizenship, we seek to strengthen our school's government. Full participation and interest in the governmental procedures at school awakens us to the importance of active citizens in an everchanging world.

Looking forward to when we will govern the nation, we realize the importance of keeping an open mind and holding on to the dreams of our forefathers.

STUDENT COUNCIL MEMBERS Dave Sanderson, Jill Canterbury, and Tom Jones prepare Christmas baskets for needy families.

Dedication

The Crest Staff consists of members of the three classes of Central. They like many of the other members of Central's Sophomore, Junior and Senior classes have been a part of Peoria High's recent up-grading in general scholarship. They represent a generation of students. Like their fellow students they have felt the infusion of higher standards in their curriculums and the introduction of enriched classes as a challenge to the better students. The success of this program has been due largely to the expert leadership of one man who you might say belongs to the same generation as our present student body. Therefore, we the Editors and members of the Staff wish to dedicate the 1961 CREST to

Mr. Max W. Mills.

FACULTY-ACADEMIC

Our Capable

Max W. Mills

The sincere, hard-working principal of Peoria High School, Max W. Mills, has endeavored to develop a program based on high academic standards which will produce intelligent, thinking students who are prepared to meet life as capable citizens. Mr. Mills is deeply interested in every student and all of the activities at Central. An enthusiastic fan of sports, he attends every game he can, proud of the quality and good sportsmanship of the players.

Harvey L. Tucker, Assistant Principal, works to improve the spirit and accomplishments of the students. He helps them to have respect for authority and themselves and also encourages them to do their best through acceptance of responsibility. His dedication has helped him steady many faltering students.

The Dean of Girls, Miss Florence Poshard, strives to understand the problems which confront girls, giving her personal assistance to those who need it. Firm in her beliefs, she counsels the girls wisely.

Harvey L. Tucker

Florence Poshard

Administrators

Through the perseverance and hard work of the eight elected members of the Board of Education, a bond issue passed this year which will bring Central a whole new science wing and a spectator gym. The science program will now be increased to meet the growing demand for scientists, while a gym of our own was badly needed.

The Board has already accomplished the construction of a new auto mechanics building which replaced the old one that is to be torn down for the freeway.

The members work constantly to improve our educational facilities and quality of teaching. They meet bi-weekly to solve the budget, building, and educational problems which are ever present.

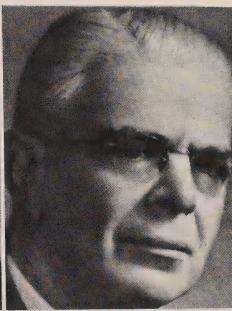

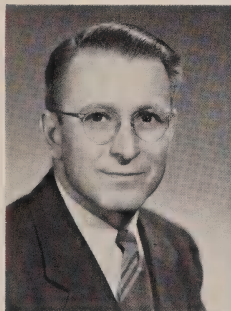

The Board of Education plays an important part in the lives of the students and the teachers. It is a definite asset to our community.

Literature and History Provide

The English and social science departments share similar goals—awakening the students' interest in the world. History courses enable them to follow the development of society. Social studies majors discuss causes and effects of war, from tribal misunderstandings to World War II. The study of great men's lives and philosophies brings the ancient world closer to our own.

Students of economics and civics learn the basic principles beneath the United States' monetary and political systems.

Debate, knowledge in action, develops young vigorous minds into those of clear-thinking adults. When a student must reinforce his views with facts, he soon learns to express himself succinctly. The debater is a student alert to world problems.

Through the study of grammar, the students learn to appreciate the skill with which good literature is written.

CIVICS TEACHES DENNIS Belcher and Margie Keller about the various functions of the state.

MR. WHITAKER LOOKS on as his practice teacher, Jackui Natarnicola, prepares an assignment for sophomore English students.

Basis for Future Learning

Adventure, terror, and wonder fill the freshman English students' imagination. The first year introduces them to the multitude of the world's great works of literature. They sail with Odysseus, fighting the terrors of the ancient seas; wide-eyed, they shiver in the eerie world of Miss Havesham in Great Expectations.

In his powerful tragedy Julius Caesar, Shakespeare reenacts the tempestuous times of the fall of a tyrant for the sophomores. The sad, human story of Silas Marner shows them a different kind of life through the sympathetic eyes of George Eliot.

The juniors learn American history through the works of our best authors. Following our country's growth from the first colonization to modern times, they realize the heritage which is ours.

Delving further into Shakespeare, each line and person in Macbeth is thoroughly analyzed by the seniors. Pope's epigrams are translated into everyday speech, so that the seniors can appreciate the wisdom of the ages that is in them.

"HERE IT IS, the liver," says Judy Musselman as she uses "Herman" for an illustration.

Math and Science Serve as Life—from the simplest amoeba to the human organism with its nine systems—is a vast subject for biology students. The highpoint of the course comes at the dissection of a frog. Each biologist tries to remove a frog's brain in one piece. To the very few who complete this feat successfully, the teachers award honorary degrees of Doctor of Frogology.

Chemistry introduces students to an exact science. They slave over memorizations and computations of the elements, their valences, formulae, and equations. Then, armed with curiosity and four test tubes apiece, students struggle with titration tubes and balances, advancing through hydrogen generation and the isolation of ions to emerge as confused chemists.

Physics initiates its students to the basic laws of nature. This course teaches how, why, and when metals expand, balls curve, and mirrors reflect. Experimentation stresses the importance of concrete proof as opposed to theory. At the completion of these courses, a student has learned to be observant and careful and is ready for college work.

KATHY TOTH AND David Todd prepare an experimentation on titration.

PYTHAGOROUS CAUSES JAN Mueller and Midge Gunther a problem. How can seventy-five steps fit on Mr. Bielema's board space?

Stepping Stones to Progress

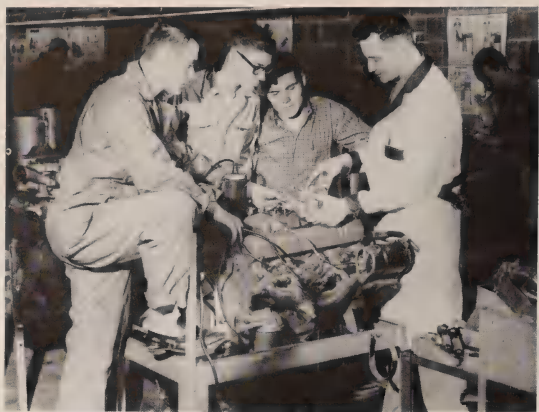

Introduced into the world of mathematics, from the most elementary algebra problem, the student advances to plane geometry, second-year algebra, and finally to trigonometry. Binomials, trinomials, and polynomials puzzle the wondering freshman. In geometry he learns the complexities derived from the theorems proven by men of ages past. Their study is continued with problems of loci and a smattering of trigonometry and solid geometry.

Advancing further, he is made acquainted with the slide rule, logarithms, quadratic equations, and arithmetic and geometric progressions. With the use of logarithms and the slide rule difficult equations are made easier. In trigonometry equations are solved with the application of sines, cosines, and tangents.

For the exceptional student an enriched math program is provided. In this respect he is able to advance according to his abilities and to cover a greater area of knowledge. This prepares him for the rigors of the difficult college math program.

DALE COOPER PONDERs over a graphic solution in the third semester of algebra.

P.H.S. BEGINS TO change its make-up as the new auto-mechanics building is constructed. Mr. Serup is instructing Dave Blanchard, William Carlin, and Bill Seele in basic mechanical principles.

Vocational Department Aids

Knowing how to cook is an asset to any girl, and at Peoria High School provisions are made for all future homemakers. Food courses teach the planning of well-balanced meals.

Suits, dresses, blouses, and even coats come from the skilled fingers in the sewing classes. Here the girls must master many different types of seams and stitches before they can complete the course. With the techniques they learn to make their own clothing for school, sports events, and special occasions.

Huddled over an engine, the boys discuss the intricate systems and parts of an automobile. With the completion of the new auto mechanics building, they now have the opportunity for greater advancements in this field. Due to the added space, each boy is able to observe the work of the latest model machines. With concentrated patience, skill and adeptness are developed in a difficult field. The intricacies of machine construction makes their job particularly engrossing.

WOODSHOP provides Terry Hoffer with the knowledge necessary to be an expert craftsman.

IN TYPING CLASS skill and coordination are developed. Mr. Wyeth gives a timing test to aid these students in being faster typists.

in the Development of Skills

With capable guidance the boys in woodshop develop skills in carpentry and general building ability. During the course of the year they make tables and lamp bases which can later be wired in the electricity shops.

Mechanical drawing provides students with a knowledge of blueprinting and an introduction to architecture. The student learns to use a T square, special compass, triangles, and arcs. With these he plots the measurements of house and building plans.

In the typing classes each pupil demonstrates his ability as an efficient worker. They become skilled in composing budgets and business letters. Shorthand students, after learning the fundamentals of abbreviation, progress rapidly into future secretaries. With a thorough knowledge of the shorthand alphabet and numerous brief forms, one is able to take dictation quickly and accurately. The students of bookkeeping learn an orderly system of filing and accounting.

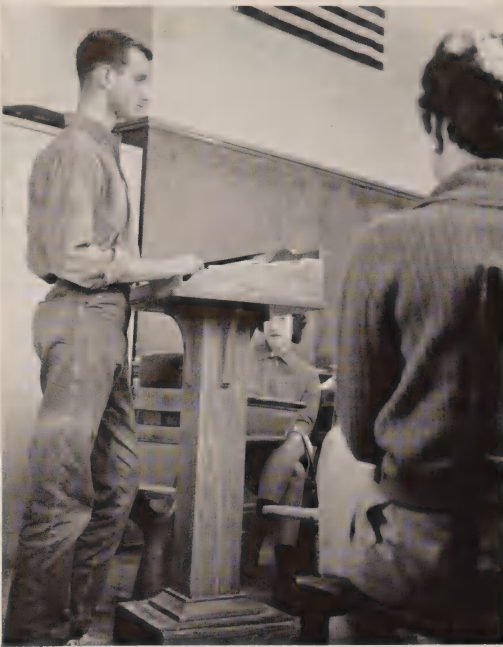

KENNY MILASHOSKI, armed with pencil, T square, drawing board, and paper, makes a scale drawing of a difficult blueprint.

Foreign Language and Fine

Many of the arts provide the satisfaction of accomplishment. Sociology, the study of man and his habits, takes us into the development of psychiatry and patterns of physical behavior. During the year the students take trips to Joliet and Bartonville to observe the mal-adjusted.

When a student tires of mere book-learning and desires something more than memorization of dates and figures, he can find many cultural opportunities at P.H.S. One of these is the choral department. A Cappella performs at many assemblies and programs. Girls' Choir drills until each note is perfect. The Light Opera Singers entertain at many club meetings with selections from Broadway shows.

Instrumentalists may perform in either band or orchestra. The band bolsters school spirit at games and assemblies. The orchestra, along with the Girls' Choir, gave a very different Christmas concert that combined vocal and instrumental numbers.

PHIL, HESTER LEADS a discussion in Mrs. Webster's Sociology class. This is a valuable course in learning about people and their problems.

GIRLS' CHOIR AND Orchestra blend with delightful harmony to entertain us at one of our assemblies.

Arts Determine Ability

The art students' work on charcoal and ink sketches introduces them to the world's of proportion, shading, and perspective. From these they may advance through water colors to oil paintings. Some students record their impressions in mosaics of chopped glass and multi-design mobiles.

As in most languages, the first and second year are dedicated to the study of grammar and vocabulary. With a background of these two years, the student learns the rudiments of the language. Third puts aside these exercises in order to devote their time to the country's literature. The French students accomplish this by using translation sheets about the major writings of France. The Spanish pupils read two novels, La Nele and El Sombrero de Tres Picos. Cicero comes alive in the minds of the Latin students, while the third year German classes study the "Monastpost."

PALETTE AND paint brush plus the artistic ability of aid in being able to express colorful ideas on canvas.

Honors Day Pays Tribute to Outstanding Students

Bev Larence
Dorothy Hall Award

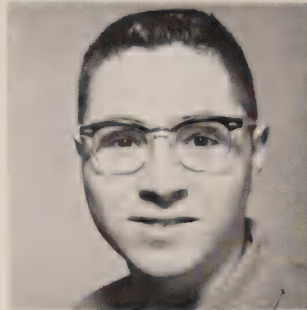

There are many opportunities for recognition, not only by our own classmates but also by the outside world. Outstanding leadership in knowledge and citizenship has been shown by several of our upperclassmen. There were three firsts awarded this year in the field of science and history. A Peoria High student was the Illinois Bell Telephone Company's choice of outstanding science student in the Peoria area. This year we had the first down-state winner in the United Nations testing program. There were three recipients of the James McCormick History Award. The brilliancy and leadership of Central students was acknowledged by the presentation of other awards.

This year Bing Crosby chose as the Photogenic Queen of the 1961 CREST, Georgianna Anderson. Without Mr. Crosby's wonderful cooperation none of this would have been possible.

This year Georgianna was a member of the Coquettes, a member of the Senior Service Club, and a page for one of the counselors.

ORGANIZATIONS

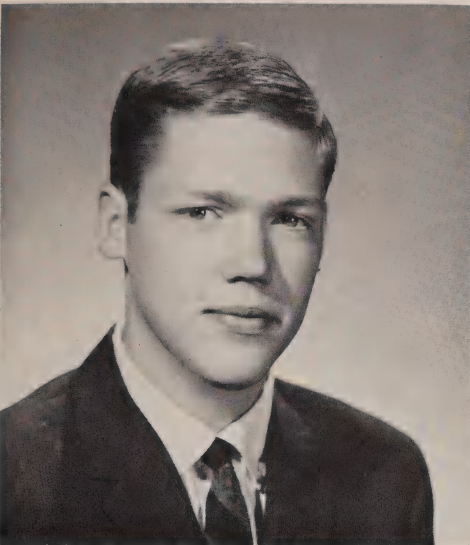

Barbara Gilkerson
President of Student Council

Barbara Gilkerson has had one goal since her freshman year—to be President of Student Council. In her climb to council's top position, she gained experience in three previous terms, serving last year as corresponding secretary and as head of the supply booth.

Now that she has reached her objective, Barb has led council with firmness and imagination. Her meetings, usually business-like, have also been spiked with her humor. Under her, the Student Council has given a full year of service—to the students, to A.F.S., to the needy. Barb has united Council and the students it represents.

Chuck Doubet
Vice-President

OFFICERS OF COUNCIL include: Treasurer, Cathie McConnell; Corresponding Secretary, Linda Thompson; Secretary, Bev Larence.

Student Council Governs

The most important organization in the school is Student Council. Elected by their classmates, its members devote fourth hour every day to Council work, having their business meetings on Tuesdays. Under the supervision of Mr. Harry Whitaker, Council has tried hard this year to make Central go. When school spirit sagged, Council members introduced boy cheerleaders to inject both rooters and players with new enthusiasm. At Homecoming they planned for the dance, stunt shows, and the election of queens. At Christmas they organized a special assembly and took baskets of food to the needy.

Council also caters to the needs of each student. Carrying paper and writing supplies, sweatshirts, and those very helpful books on writing research papers, the Student Council supply booth is crowded every day.

Committee of 40 Plans Activities

Year after year the Committee of 40 has promoted an active social life at Central. From the freshman mixer in the fall to the "Carnival Capers" in the spring at the end of school, the Committee members worked hard to stimulate the interest of the students.

Under the supervision of Mr. Lev Wallace, the Committee has bolstered the school spirit at Central by putting up posters and selling pep cards for the students to wear. Each week the members spend some of their free time working in the Rec. The Committee of 40 has presented the Thanksgiving Dance, Nebish Nonsense, and the variety show. The variety show raised some much needed funds for the athletic organizations of the school.

The 1960 CREST was an All-American yearbook, one of the top few in the nation. This year we have tried to make it even better through a new organization set-up. Instead of an editor-in-chief, assistant editor, and section editors, there are an editor-in-chief, a layout editor, with the section editors under her, the copy editor and the photography editor. It is the goal of the CREST staff to present the school with an interesting and memorable yearbook, describing and illustrating the highlights of the past year. We sincerely hope that this year's book will prove to be in keeping with your expectations.

CREST Photographers

Mixing chemicals, ordering photographic supplies, and developing and printing pictures are all a part of the photographer's job. Hundreds of pictures are taken each year for the CREST; the photographers must be sure of the high quality of each one. On the move the entire year, they take the pictures needed to fulfill most important requirements for an All-American yearbook. These pictures must be set-up and balanced; they must be taken too fit the layouts; the lighting must be just right and the final proof must look natural. With all this to cope with, the job of the photographer is never ending.

Established in 1890, the Opinion has given Peoria High School seventy-one years of excellent news feature reporting. During this time, the Opinion was first printed in the Black Hole under the boiler room. Then they set the type there but sent forms to the Journal Transcript for printing. Now all copy is taken to shops for complete processing. This bi-weekly newspaper has always been one of the best in the country. In this year alone it has garnered such awards as: first class rating from the National Press Association; Medalist from Columbia Scholastic Press Association; and the first vice-presidency of the Illinois State High School Press Association. In addition, two pictures taken by Bob Jamieson and used in the Opinion were carried over U.P.I. wire service and appeared in numerous metropolitan dailies.

Julie Heiple, Editor-in-Chief, and her advisor, Mrs. Chamnes, have about 40 students writing news, features, and sports stories for the paper. Included among their articles have been such stand-outs as personal interviews with Mrs. Pat Nixon, President Kennedy, and Doctor Earl F. English, a former advisor for the Opinion, and also with Lynda Bird Johnson.

The Business Staff, headed by Diane Gates and supervised by Mr. Wyeth, has also worked hard to make such an excellent newspaper as the Opinion available to Central.

Two Valedictorians Lead the Class of '61

The ultimate goal of a high school student is attained with admittance to the "Top Ten." Perfection is not easy to accomplish, but Peoria High School's two Valedictorians have reached it. Each has a perfect four point rating, which is equal to a straight "A" average. Only through hard work and special enthusiasm have the "Top Ten" assumed their places. The CREST wishes to confer sincerest congratulations and best wishes to them.

Senior National Honor Society

Membership in the Senior National Honor Society is a distinction for any senior. Selection for this group is based upon a student's display of scholarship, leadership, service, and character. In recognition of such an accomplishment, new members are presented with their cards before an assemblage of the entire school. Members also receive a certain bonus—they are eligible for certain scholarships not available to other students.

Junior National Honor Society

With the lighting of four candles, white for character, gold for scholarship, green for leadership, and blue for service, new members are initiated into Junior National Honor Society. Chosen from the upper ten percent of the Sophomore class, these students have spent many hours doing homework to achieve their positions. While leadership qualities are considered, scholastic standing forms the principle for selection.

Quill and Scroll

Peoria High's amateur actors who have given performances that were well done for amateurs were awarded membership in the Dramatic Honor Society. Selecting on the basis of characterization, voice, body action, stage presence, and cooperation, three impartial judges of the community rate the performance of the students in major dramatic productions. Last spring they chose new members from Jusendra's one-act plays, and this fall five students were selected from the cast of Cheaper by the Dozen. Miss Lamberton is faculty advisor.

Dramatic Honor Society

Each year certain members of the CREST and Opinion are picked for membership in Quill and Scroll. The amateur journalists selected have maintained high grade averages and done the most and hardest work. They have contributed to the excellence of their publications. Taking an oath in a special assembly, the new members received torch-shaped pins. In addition, they were each awarded a year's subscription to the high school journalists' magazine, Quill and Scroll.

Senior Service Devotes Time to School and Civic Affairs

Senior girls who wish to be of service not only to their school, but to their community as well, may join the Senior Service Club. Under the guidance of Miss Poschard, these girls work many hours during the year to help their fellow-man. At Christmas time they participated in the Toys for Tots drive, collecting toys at school and helping to distribute them to underprivileged children at Neighborhood House. In the spring months the Senior Service girls launched a school-wide drive to collect white sheets, pillow-cases, and towels for cancer dressings. The girls also donated time to helping at the T.B. center.

Here at Peoria High School, Senior Service Club has been active. Assisting the P.T.A., they sold Central decals and Family Fun Fair tickets. Helping other student organizations, they ushered for different programs.

Key Club Serves the Community and School

The goal of the Key Club, a boys' service club at Peoria High, is to help our school and the community.

Every year a group of Key Clubbers volunteers to ring the Salvation Army bell on corners during the Christmas vacation.

They also helped with the "Toys for Tots" project at the Neighborhood House.

The Key Club expertly handled the football and basketball programs again this year. When the halls seem dull and dusty with all the tarnished trophies in their cases, Key Club holds its annual trophy shine. The boys shine the trophies until they reflect their former glory.

As a money raising project this year for their own benefit, the Key Clubbers sold attractive plastic book covers.

All this seems like a lot of work, but the Key Club members have their time for fun also. They have the privilege of attending a Kiwanis Club luncheon several times a year, and the fun of presenting pep assemblies and of having their annual spring picnic.

Lettermen's Club Serves at School Functions

Another of the many service organizations at Peoria High, the Lettermen's Club has become very active in the two years since its organization. Ushering, guarding the doors during pep assemblies, and checking coats at the Athletic Banquet are a few of the tasks performed by its members. The boys also help to set up the booths for the Family Fun Fair.

Meeting once a month under the supervision of Mr. Dick Whitaker, Lettermen's Club is headed by Bob Hunter.

Pages and Office Assistants Aid Counselors

Without the efficient help of the pages and office assistants, Peoria High counselors and clerks would never finish all of their work in one day. How difficult it would be if a counselor had to go to a student's class and get him each time he wished to discuss the student's courses. However, he doesn't have to; pages perform this service. They also help out by filling in program cards, helping to arrange class schedules, and doing routine typing.

Office assistants carry messages to and from classes, answer the telephone, operate the switchboard, and call absentees. These jobs, far from menial, are a very important part of a well-run office. The sophomore, junior, and senior girls who devote an hour's study hall each day to assist as pages, perform an invaluable service for the school.

Art Guild Sparks Interest in a New Field

The artists at Central have formed the Art Guild. This organization gives members a chance to broaden their knowledge of the field of art. The Guild members studied furniture design at the Cohen Furniture Company, and made several trips to churches in the city in order to study architecture. Mr. Suffield, Peoria High art teacher, sponsors the Guild.

REPRESENTING THE LATIN CLUB are Suzi Swanson, Jill Canterbury, and Gary Haluska, as they point out examples of how Latin appears in everyday living.

Latin club meetings begin with the members rising to sing "America" in Latin. From then on anything may happen. Once a pair of American students found themselves at a debate between two campaigning Romans. Noting the many similarities between Roman and American campaigns, they reported on what they heard and saw.

In February, the month of great men, Latin Club held a patriotic meeting, comparing the political careers and achievements of Abraham Lincoln and George Washington with those of great Romans.

Students also play Latin games such as charades and word relays. At the close of each meeting, the members rise and say in unison, "Valet Amici," or "Good-bye, friends."

Spanish Club Brings Spain to P.H.S.

There is more to the study of a foreign language than the language itself. The country where it is spoken, its people, and their customs should also be a part of the students' knowledge. Spanish Club, under the supervision of Miss Stepaitis, tries to fill these needs. It has brought an understanding of the mannerisms and culture of the Spanish-speaking people that is not always found in the classroom.

The club provides a wealth of learning and enjoyment at its meetings through skits, movies, speakers, and songs. For example, a Christmas party is held each year where everyone participates in games, sings songs, and enjoys the provided refreshments. A Spanish atmosphere is added to the meetings as most of the business is conducted in Spanish.

French Club Learns About Literature of France

"Bonjour mes amis!" began each French Club meeting led by president Cathie McConnell.

This year French Club had several meetings during which slides of the French countryside, French monuments, and the French people were shown and the French customs were discussed. Observing and talking about France, French students came to know the people whose language they were learning.

This year French Club had a new advisor, Mr. Neff. Mr. Neff came to Central this year from Woodruff to teach French.

"Au revoir pour maintenant!" or "Goodbye for now!" ends each meeting. French Club enlivens the study of French for its students.

This year's monthly German Club meetings had various cultural and educational themes. They included the showing of pictures, movies, and slides of Germany itself. Visiting A.F.S. foreign exchange student Hans Kaestner contributed valuable information to the club by giving first-hand information of "Deutschland." German "Lieder" are sung by the members, acquainting them with the great composers of German culture.

The highlights of the club year are the Christmas party and the spring picnic. The Christmas party was held at the Rec; it was a well planned program of singing, entertainment, exchange of gifts, and other festivities originating from Germany. This year's officers were: President Bob Bovenschulte, Vice-President Craig Thiersh, Secretary Kay Ringel, and Treasurer Tom Newell.

German Club Singers

Started in 1957 by members of the German Club and sponsored by Miss Ziegler, the German Singers are an important part of each German Club meeting. They perform in school assemblies and for luncheon clubs, such as the Steuben Club and the Cosmopolitan Club.

Participating in the centennial of the Concordia Singing Society in 1958, they were the only high school group among choral groups from our and neighboring states.

Ticket Committee

The fast-working money changers of the Ticket Committee, directed by Mr. Stepping, are always busy during the lunch hours. Selling tickets to every game or play at Central, the committee is always in demand. In the busiest times they are selling tickets to more than one occasion.

DISCUSSING THE PRICE of tickets are F. Janovetz, M. Jordan, Mr. Stepping, N. Abernathy, C. Evans, and C. Judkins.

Orchestra Encourages Musical Talent

MR. SZEPESSY POINTS out the way it's done to Chuck Teeter.

Mr. J. E. Szepeessy directs the Peoria High School Orchestra, a talented group of about fifty students. These musicians play pieces from Bach, Mozart, Strauss, and other composers, as well as more modern ones. Playing at special assemblies and visiting universities, they are stimulated to further their musical education. Each year several members have the honor of playing in the All-State Orchestra.

Meeting first hour of every day, the orchestra members work to perfect their playing. They learn to appreciate and understand high quality music. Developing a sense of harmony and unity, the young musicians become a well organized orchestra.

Band Provides Music for Our Games

Under the direction of Mr. Herbert Stoskopf, the Peoria High School Band performed at pep assemblies, football games, and parades. The fifty-six members also sold candy and light bulbs to help cover extra expenses and to pay for the uniforms that they received two years ago. In April the band went to Chicago to see a concert and a musical play. Several soloists of the band competed in district and state competition. The Peoria High School Band, which is active all year, made about forty public appearances this year. According to Mr. Stoskopf, the band serves to acquaint the members with good music, teaching them cooperation.

Coquettes Kick It Up

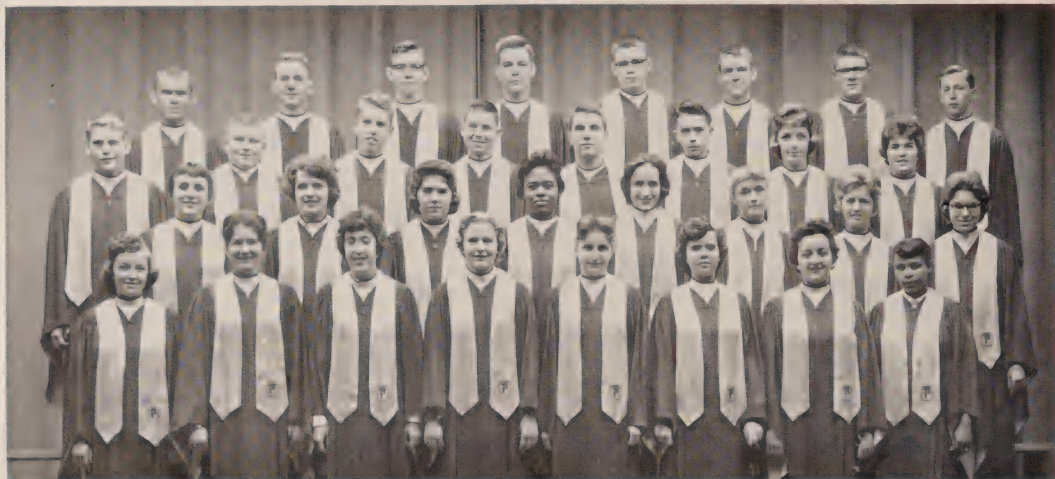

The Coquettes, under the guidance of Mrs. Judy Stoskopf, contributed to school spirit throughout the year. Marching out on the football field, radiant in their red and white costumes, the girls danced to polkas and cha-cha music. Of the three groups, the first carried poles bearing colored flags. The second group followed waving shake-a-roos representing different school colors. The third finished the routine with red, white, and blue flags.

In addition to their performances at games, the girls represented Peoria High by marching in precision drill teams at the United Fund and Christmas parades. Some of them have danced at pep assemblies. At the Turkey Day game Jill Wilkie did a solo dance routine for the crowd at half-time.

A Cappella Choir Is the Highest Goal in Music

When a student at P.H.S. can say that he is a member of A Cappella Choir, he has reached the most honored place in the music department. The members of this group are chosen and directed by Mrs. Dorothy Linder. She picks only those who have musical ability, and who have had previous experience in other Central choral groups.

A Cappella Choir sings for many special programs. This year they took part in the dramatization of A Christmas Carol and in Thunder on the River, the outdoor epic play of Peoria's history. In a talent exchange, they gave an assembly at Spalding, and this year, as always, they sang for Christmas Vespers.

Girls' Choir

The Girls' Choir, a group of junior and senior girls, prepares its members for the A Cappella Choir. The members of the choir must have had experience in freshman and sophomore choral classes.

They sang in our Christmas assembly and in other special assemblies throughout the year. The girls have sung at other schools in the Peoria area.

Mixed Chorus

One of the newer singing groups of Peoria High, the mixed chorus is made up of sophomore boys and girls. They sing at various school functions under the supervision of Mrs. Dorothy Linder.

With such a wide range in voices they are able to do many different kinds of songs. In this way they receive good musical training for future participation in other Central choirs.

Light Opera

An ensemble of sixteen girls, the Light Opera Singers perform often for church, school, and civic groups. Their programs consist mostly of numbers from musical comedies such as Music Man, My Fair Lady, and Brigadoon. Charming in their pink and rose dresses, the girls enjoy singing as much as their audiences do listening. They have all been selected by Mrs. Linder for their ability to blend, harmonize, and sparkle during the performances.

Girls' Glee Club

"Sing, girls, sing!" says Mrs. Linder, the director of the Girls' Glee Club as the group bursts into three-part harmony. Any girl may join, and those who elect this course meet five days a week to learn all kinds of music. Singing mostly for their own enjoyment, they also perform every year in the Christmas Vespers and for the Spring Concert. Glee Club gives experience which will be valuable to those who go on to A Cappella.

Those Interested in Music Belong to Music Workshop

Only a love of music is required for membership in Music Workshop. Many of the students belonging to this club sing in Peoria High choirs; many of them do not. All enjoy their monthly meetings of songs, stories, and punch and cookies served during the meetings. Different choral groups from Central and other schools entertain them throughout the year. New talent may make its debut at Music workshop.

Jusendra, created for students who love the theater, is open to all juniors and seniors. Not only experiencing the joys and fears of appearing before an audience, members also learn stage technicalities, the behind-the-scene jobs of make-up, sound, and lighting. During regular meetings they entertain each other with readings and monologues. The presentation of Shooting High climaxed the year's work. To give the polished performances that they did, these amateur actors had to suffer through the agonies of trying out, work long hours in rehearsing, and stand the gnawing anticipation before the curtain went up. Acting, they learned, takes large measures of courage, energy, patience, broad-mindedness, and feeling.

Debaters Gain Confidence in Speaking

The debate team, under the supervision of Mrs. Johnson, argues the topic: "Resolved, that the United Nations should be significantly strengthened." The members of the team try to achieve good poise in talking and logical reasoning. Most of the members plan to be lawyers or public speakers. This year the team debated at La Grange, Normal, East Peoria, Augustana, Bradley University, Manual, and Richwoods.

GIVING A FEW POINTERS to the cast of the play is Larry Propp.

Cue Club Arouses Interest in the Dramatic Field

Absent for one year, Cue Club has returned to Peoria High School. This drama organization for underclassmen has as its sponsors Miss Johnson and Mrs. Johnson. Its members entertain each other at meetings with one-act plays, monologues, readings, pantomines, or original skits. In this way they learn about the theater, prepare for future membership and participation in Jusendra, and have a great deal of fun while achieving their aims.

Junior Red Cross Helps the Community

The Junior Red Cross helps the poor and ill through volunteer work. Their time is given freely to the projects that they have planned. The members, a regular representative and an alternate from each homeroom, attend two meetings each month to plan these activities and to learn methods presented to them by the National Red Cross. Each year they collect money to support the numerous functions of the club and send a member of the Junior Red Cross to the summer Red Cross Camp. Their service is to the school and also to the needy families in the surrounding area.

Future Nurses

The members of Future Nurses Club desire to enter nursing. Each member acquaints herself with the different fields of nursing, learning its fundamentals through visits to the local hospitals. These trips are both instructive and entertaining; the participants gain practical knowledge of what goes on in the hospitals.

Films, speeches, and discussions about their future vocation make up their monthly meetings which are supervised by Miss Jacks.

Pre-Med Club

The Pre-Med Club encourages those who hope to become doctors and medical technicians to keep up with some of the more remarkable discoveries in medicine. Discussing part of the time, they listen to talks by doctors. They receive much valuable advice from the club advisor, Miss Kinhofer, and pointers as to the training and available jobs from the visiting doctors.

Future Teachers Gain Experience in the Classroom

Future Teachers Club is a chapter of the National Association of Future Teachers of America. Miss Albright, the leader of this group of students who hope to follow teaching as a profession, tries to instill in them a true love for children. Held about once a month, their meetings are made exceedingly interesting by speakers who are prominent leaders in the field of education. The members of the organization discuss basic fundamentals of teaching.

During the year they have participated in many worthwhile projects such as: the Christmas party they gave for underprivileged children.

Library Club

Whenever you need information for a history report, modern essay for English, or just a book for pleasureable reading, you probably go to Peoria High School's library. There the members of the Library Club wait to help you. Stamping and filing books, these students devote at least one hour of service a week. With Mrs. Bell and Mr. Stanger as their teachers, they learn a great deal about library science.

Co-Op Club

The Co-op Club is an organization supervised by Mrs. Pocklington, enables future secretaries to learn office procedure during the afternoon while they are still taking school course in the morning. The members attend school the first three hours in the morning, and work in an office the rest of the day. The club is made up of students from Peoria High School and Manual.

Chess—a mystery to people who only hear its name mentioned by thoughtful, serious young men—is an every day occurrence to the members of Chess Club. They slide around pawns, queens, and bishops with grave concern, trapping their opponents, and laughing over victory. In short, they enjoy chess.

Mr. Stepping, their advisor, organizes tournaments for them to show off their skill. These tournaments consist of one round of play in the Swiss Ladder Tournament.

Science Club

Science Club has meetings every Monday night. These meetings are rarely dangerous, but there is a certain amount of experimenting going on all the time. The members meet to discuss current events and to watch movies on scientific subject matter. They debate on controversial topics and listen to speakers who are well-versed on particular subjects. Projection Crew Visual aids are recognized as good practice in teaching. When a teacher decides to use a film or slides to illustrate some point, he usually calls on a member of the Projection Crew to show them for him. Because of this, these boys are on call at any time.

Being a projectionist requires skill, for the boys must be adept at handling all kinds of equipment—slide projectors, cinemascope lenses, and sound and silent projectors.

Under the supervision of Mr. Bauder, the members hold meetings only when the occasion arises. Although there are only boys in the club now, any Peoria High student may join the Projection Crew.

Stage Crew

The stage crew, under the direction of Mr. Lurie, is responsible for management of the stage during assemblies, pep rallies, stunt shows, plays, and other school activities. The crew is composed of boys who are interested in the "behind the scenes" work that goes on during activities. The fellows must donate their own time to this work, but they gain a lot of useful experience in learning to operate the curtains, lights, and other backstage equipment. Theirs is an unrewarding job, but also a very necessary part of any smoothly running performance.

Y-Teens is closely affiliated with the Young Women's Christian Association. Mrs. Yingst has charge of the group from Peoria High. They have dances, parties, and take part in other social and service activities. The Y-Teens strive to emulate the ideals of the Y.W.C.A.

Gridders Place Second in

Through the excellent guidance and hard work of Coach Robertson and his assistant, Mr. Whitaker, the Lions had a successful grid season. The first game proved to be an uphill fight for the Central squad as they lost a close game to Maine West at Chicago. The final score was 21-19. The second game was the beginning of a long winning streak for the Lions as they trampled over the Limestone Rockets 39-0. The following week Woodruff present the first stiff local competition. With a hard driving offense, Central finally outscored the Warriors by 34-20. Having two consecutive wins behind them, the Lions saw an obstacle in the Spalding Irish. Both teams played brilliant football with alert defenses, but Central reigned victorious at the Homecoming game by downing Spalding 7-0.

The next week Central traveled to Decatur to play Eisenhower. The game was mostly defense, and with several smart offensive calls, the Lions gained their fourth straight win 7-0.

One of the big games of the season came on the following Friday with Richwoods. Central hadn't beaten the Knights for three years, but this was the year for the Lions. With a lightning offense and a sure-footed defense, Central ripped the Richwoods squad apart with a decisive margin of 41-0.

Another arch-rival Pekin was Central's next foe. The Lions had another successful night by making the Chinks their sixth victim, 33-13. The East Peoria Raiders were next to fall under the powerful blow of the Centralites, as the Lions gained their seventh win of the year 27-0.

Central played host to a very strong visiting Kewanee team the following week. The game was a rugged test of Central's strength, but again they came through, defeating Kewanee 25-14.

With Central's eight and one record, undefeated Manual made the Thanksgiving Day game our most important one, for the City Title and the Mid-State Eight Championship were to be determined. Both teams were well prepared for the game, but in the end the Rams proved to be more powerful as they overthrew the Lions, 34-6.

Cheerleaders Inspire School Spirit

The cheerleaders provide an indispensable spark at pep assemblies and athletic events. Lifting school spirit and bolstering the team, they are an important part of our school.

Just as the boys out for sports, the girls have strenuous practice, going over old yells and learning new ones. Miss Spickard directs the cheers, which often involve intricate maneuvers and arm and leg movements.

Each year there are a few days when hopeful girls try out for the cheerleading squad. Miss Spickard and the senior cheerleaders try to pick the best girls from the group. An important source of cheerleaders is the junior-varsity cheerleaders who cheer at sophomore football and basketball games.

Central Ends the Season

As this was the first season for Harry Whitaker as head basketball coach at P.H.S., the Lions had a greater problem than usual in meeting the stiff competition of the Mid-State Eight Conference. Gaining confidence, the team rallied in the second half of the season to win most of their games. They advanced to the regional in the state tournament before being eliminated by powerful Manual. Fighting their way to victory, they compiled a thirteen wins and twelve losses record.

This year's sophomore basketball season ended with a good record. Harry Whitaker, who moved up to varsity coach this year, was replaced by Dick Whitaker in the sophomore driver's seat. Two of the outstanding sophs, Craig Alexander and Jim Wheeler, played regularly on the varsity squad. Practice and more practice turned the squad into an organized and winning team.

Good Year for Freshman Basketball Team

The freshman basketball team had an exceptionally good season. They finished with a record of 17 wins and 3 losses. Mr. Boyle, their coach, has proven his high ability in his first year of coaching at Peoria High School. The able freshman team has learned the fundamentals of basketball, so that next year they should have a successful sophomore season.

Stickman's Future Bright

Central's diamondmen swung their way through the baseball season last year. With Bill Coker's tough pitching and Mike Cook's hard hitting, the Lions finished with eight wins and seven losses. The team lost close games to Manual, Galesburg, Limestone, East Peoria, Canton, and Pekin.

Coach Harry Whitaker, in his fourth year of piloting the team, thought that the baseball season should be just as successful this spring. Most of the lettermen returned.

DEMONSTRATING excellent batting form, Bob Bovenschulte drives the ball to the outfield.

The Baseball Team Uses Pitching Power

Hard work and long practice are but two of the many qualities of the 1960 baseball team at P.H.S., which turned the season into a success. Working on both fundamentals and details of each phase of the game, the Lions prepared themselves for each game on their pressing Mid-State Eight conference schedule. The ability to hit the long ball, sound pitching, fast fielding and good running enabled the ball club, to compile several impressive victories. The 17-2 win over Woodruff and the 9-0 victory over

Limestone showed the hitting power of the team.

Most of the better hurlers of the pitching staff are returning for action in 1961 along with much of the infield and a good crop of outfielders. With new talent coming from the sophomore squad to back up the returning lettermen, Coach Whitaker is looking forward to a very profitable season next year and expects to finish high in the standing of the league.

Swimmers Show Fighting Spirit

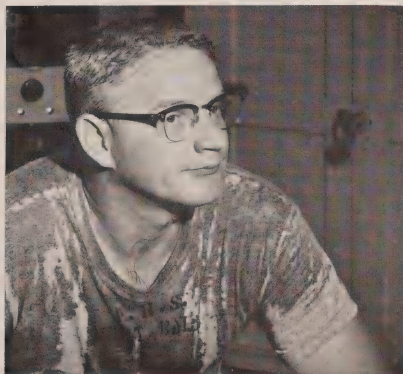

The 1960-61 Central Swimming Team improved as the year progressed. Consistently cutting seconds off their time, the swimmers ended their season stronger than they were at the first. The highest triumph of the year came when the Peoria High team beat Pekin 54-32.

This year Swen Wallin replaced Joseph Yuhaue who coached Central from 1944-1960. Senior Tom Newell and Dave McMaster were the co-captains who led the team to victory. Other senior swimmers were Jim Dischert, Todd Schmidt, and Gary Barker in freestyle; Jack Russell and Don Thompson in backstroke; and Bob Thomson in freestyle and diving. Juniors Dave Peterson and Mike McCord were elected co-captains for next year. Other varsity members were junior Jim Deatherage, sophomores Til Kreiling and Bruce Ballentyne, and freshman Scott Wellbrock. All of the home meets were swum in the Peoria Y.M.C.A. pool.

Matmen Have Tough Opponents

Central's matmen, with the help of their new coach, Mr. Zimmerman, learned new holds and maneuvers to meet the tough competition in this area. Averaging two meets a week, the grapplers had their home contests in the girls' gym. Jim Roe, Central's leading wrestler, advanced to the sectional in state competition before being eliminated. Coaching his boys to be fast and have endurance, Mr. Zimmerman wants to produce another first-rate team for Peoria High.

Again this year the increasingly popular intramural program provided exercise and fun for the boys not on the regular competitive teams. Under the supervision of Mr. Koepping it was a tremendous success. There was a total of fourteen teams competing in the junior-senior and the fresh-soph leagues. The junior-senior champs were the Six-Packs who had an eight win and no losses record. The Winners, the aptly-named fresh-soph league winner, had a perfect record of six wins and no losses.

Cross Country Displays Fine Ability

With seven wins and five losses John Deal's 1960 cross country team finished with a fairly good record. The hill-trotters came in fourth in the Mid-State Eight, running to a third place in the district meet. The Lions finished twelfth in the fifth Peoria Invitational and sixth in the Sterling Invitational. Captain Randy Ziffren ran hard for a third place in the district meet which enabled him to go to state.

STARTING ON THE two mile run, Peoria High School cross country runners move out in the lead.

Cindermen Place Second in Mid-State Eight

The 1960 track team for Peoria High compiled a very fine record of five wins, one loss, and one tie. Coach Dick Whitaker led an eager young team to second place in the Mid-State Eight. The tracksters also won fifth place at the Kewanee and the Woodruff Relays, and a first at the Del-aven Invitational. The Lions placed third at the state district qualifying meet. Central ranked high at the State meet when the mile relay took eighth place, and Carl Kimbral and Tom Halperin placed seventh and ninth in the 440. With only three lettermen gone for 1961, Peoria High is a strong contender in the Mid-State Eight.

TOM HALPERIN and Karl Kimbral charge through the finishing line.

Dick Whitaker
Head Track Coach

Netmen Achieve Overall Success

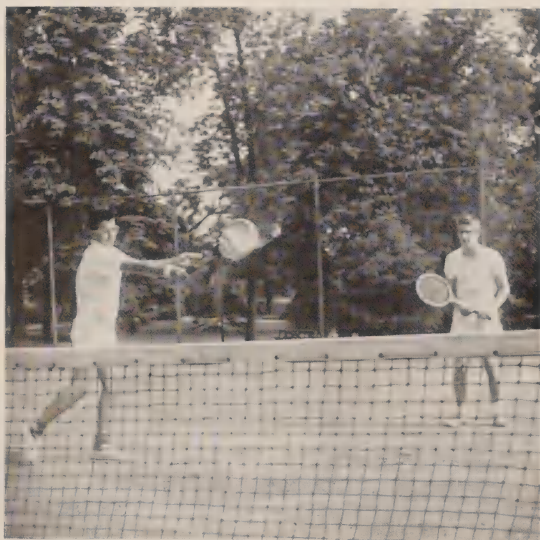

1960 Record: Eight wins — Five losses — One tie

Tied for First Place in the District

Ross Canterbury and Bob Raynett placed 2nd in Mid-State 8 doubles. Cary Schwartz placed 3rd in Mid-State 8 singles.

A smooth stroke, quick step, and keen eyes are just a few of the major essentials for a perfected tennis game. This year's team seemed to display these admirable qualities and many others as they proceeded to chalk up a winning season.

With Mr. Deal as their coach and Ross Canterbury as their captain the courtmen showed exceptional ability and superb skill.

HARVEY CHECKMAN WATCHES as Gary Schwartz returns a serve.

John Deal
Tennis Coach

BACK ROW: C. Farnum, A. Cumming, M. McCord, G. Armstrong, R. Speers, R. Seward, Coach D. Hawkins. FRONT ROW: D. Sanderson, C. Steinberg, R. Silkey, T. Fuchs.

Linksmen Have Successful Season

1960 Record: 7 won; 3 lost

2nd in District meet

3rd in Mid-State Eight

Psychological attitude as well as muscular coordination plays an important role in the game of golf. Each member of the team must play his best golf at all times in order to retain their rank on the squad. Before each match Coach Hawkins holds playoffs or challenge matches among the individual linksmen.

This year's squad played their best and finished second in district tourney and third in the Mid-State Eight With Neumann as their home course, Central's golf team had the much-appreciated help and supervision of pro Fred Springer. Seniors Larry King, Bill Augesburger, and Dave McDonald led the team to seven wins and three losses.

GERRY ARMSTRONG takes some tips from Coach Hawkins as Mike McCord looks on.

CLASSES

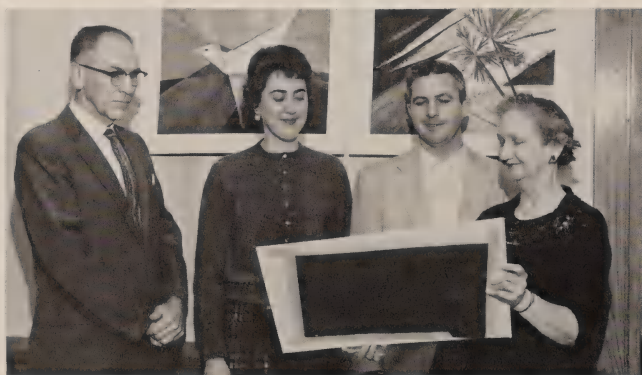

Our senior year rushed by us,

Holding memories for a lifetime, this CREST is for us seniors. The last four years now seem like only one. All of the tests, term papers, and long assignments soon will be blended into a pleasant memory of a young, happy life. We grew in size and character, some of us growing taller than the rest. We worked, laughed, played, cried, cheered, sang, and incessantly talked. These were the most enjoyable years of our short lives, for our minds and bodies were becoming adults'. Each year we took on more responsibility, serving our school and community with leadership, participation, and effort. Eager to do and learn, we searched for the meaning of our lives. We found meaning in the acceptance of responsibility. Reaching for adulthood, many of us had to take on responsibility for the work of others as well. Leading our school's organizations, we gave our help to underclassmen who still felt unsure of themselves.

Our senior year was a busy and exciting one with College Board Tests, scholarship tests, awards, college and applications, and getting ready for graduation. We are honored and pleased to have been part of Peoria High School. We have served her well. Now we are ready to face the future, hoping for the best and working toward our goal.

STEVIE'S AIRPORT RESTAURANT sets the scene for a Saturday night dinner date for Jeff O'Neill and Marilyn Nelson.

as friends say good-bye and go their ways.

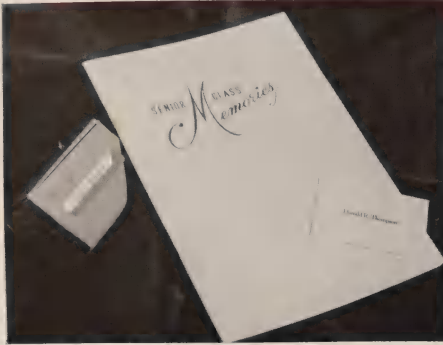

ON CREST DAY Carolyn Judkins, Carol Clauss, and Marty Jordan are busily autographing yearbooks for their friends.

A dinner date before the dance, a speech that brought us honor—these filled our lives with enjoyment and excitement. Using our abilities, we strive for office. Others played our games for us, and sang for us. We did our part, too. Working with others, we strengthened character and made life more enjoyable. We discovered the pleasure of a pleasant night of talk and activity. Most of us dated. We were growing up.

THE STATE OF our treasurer is reported by Jim Lovier at a Senior Class meeting.

Some friends and pleasures will

NAME CARDS—the first hint of coming graduation.

Honors, work and pleasures are all memories of our senior year. We were an intelligent, lively class, looking and learning and seeing. We were proud to be members of the class of 1961.

and what Central has taught us will endure.

Finding new pleasures, new experiences, our world opened for us. Lively and eager, we joined many activities. We worked off the drudgery of long hours of school by physical exertion, food, and talk.

Satisfying our desires, we tried on new talents. Extra work, long hours paid off for us, as we successfully conquered our fears and tried harder. We enriched our minds and found pleasure in accomplishment. Recognition and honor pushed us to do a little more, to think a little harder. It was satisfying to know that we successfully accomplished what we aimed for.

The biggest accomplishment for all of us was graduating. It took four years to do it, but most of us finally made it. We look back and think how far it seemed at the beginning of high school, and now we have all of it behind us.

Many times we sought counsel and guidance from our patient advisors. With their aid new fields of opportunity and learning opened to us. We planned each succeeding year of high school with the goal of graduation just above our heads.

Our goals are STILL UNDECIDED about his choice of a college, Eric Perry jots down notes on prospective schools.

TAKING A REFRESHING break from our school work and responsibilities, we balance our hectic lives with play.

one step closer.

Studying, planning, seeking, and playing—our lives were filled with activity. In spite of everything else, schoolwork came first in our budget of time and energy. Our curious minds led us beyond the daily assignments, deep into the mysteries of knowledge. Often surprising ourselves, we spent extra hours doing homework.

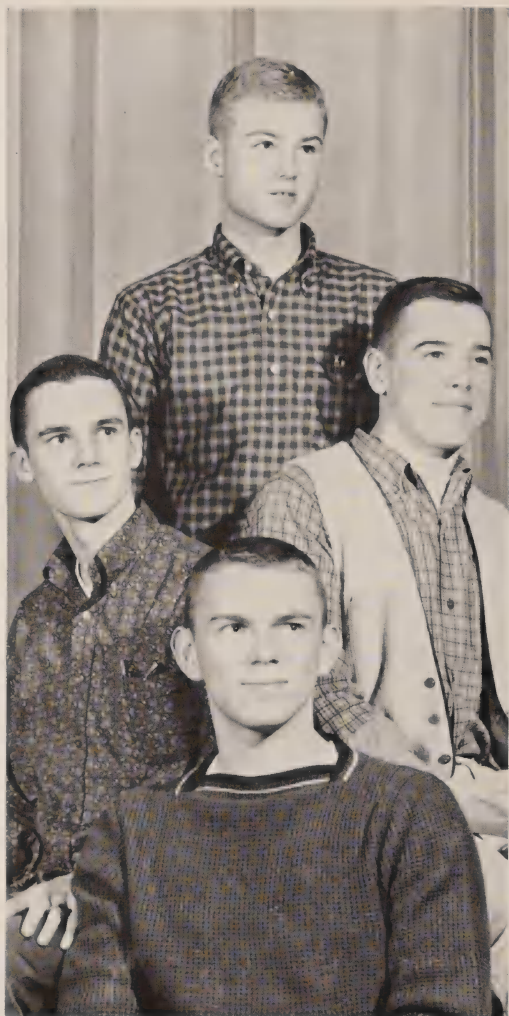

For those whose curiosity and yearning got the better of them, college and further education was the answer. Choosing a college was an important decision. Schools were visited, bulletins studied, and hopes for acceptance came true for us. Some had disappointments, but all were worked out in the end.

Our busy lives overflowed onto the dance floor, the skating rink, and the basketball court. Balancing our work with our play, we shouted, played games, gossiped, and rested.

Underlying our activity was a searching for truth and meaning. Seeking to understand the world, we turned to spiritual guidance and found the answer.

WE FACE THE FUTURE with hope and determination. Heidi Hoffman and John Moore.

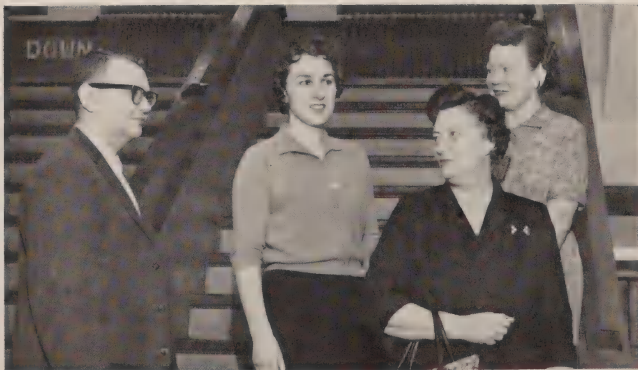

Mike Cook, treasurer; Larry Norton, vice-president; Darmon Kuntz, president; Larry Rager, secretary.

We started our Junior year . . .

Chemistry smells still linger about our clothes as we look back to our junior year at Central. Our first project as the junior class was to present Cinderella for the stunt shows—a smash hit with the juniors. The American Field Service winner will spread the fame of our class to foreign lands. Winners in the National Merit Scholarship are eligible for scholarships as a reward for long hours of toil. The College Day at Peoria High made us realize that college is very near. Eagerly thinking of next year, we elected next year's Student Council president and the members of Council.

Working and hoping, we are stimulated to aim higher, and we are already planning for college, jobs, and marriage. All that is left now of our high school life is our senior year—the most important one.

Miss Pocklington, Miss Kellogg.

and buying tickets for our long-awaited Prom.

RON EISELE FINDS that it is easier to pay $2.75 for his ticket from Pam Herman and Ramona Gibbs when he thinks of the evening of fun ahead at the Junior Prom.

The Junior Prom

In the background of a Southern mansion . . . delightful melodious music . . . starched white shirts . . . flowing formals . . . a sprinkling fountain . . . a formal atmosphere . . . graceful weeping willow branches . . . the smell of magnolia blossoms . . . a mild spring breeze . . . dancing till midnight . . . Belles and Beaux . . . all give the mood of the Old South to our wonderful Junior Prom.

Charles Burnett, vice-president; Christie Roth, president; Mary Meisinger, secretary; John Van Winkle, treasurer.

We gained experience as Sophomores through . . .

We sophomores can be proud of ourselves, for our school could not have done well without us. The upperclassmen learned a lesson when we took over the basketball team. Being a spirited class, we have memories which we will never forget.

The sophomore stunt show demonstrated our class spirit, which has increased through the year. Doctors of Frogology, plane and solid geometry, and tuberculosis shots punctured our year with honors, work, and pain. Receiving the sacred driver's license, we showed the world that we knew how to handle ourselves. Attending the games of the sophomore athletic teams, we cheered them on to victory. We moved forward this year, working long and hard to learn what our teachers and parents were telling us.

Even now we are planning for college—arranging schedules, taking tests, and watching our grades. Half-way through high school, we eagerly await our junior year.

Mrs. Harrel, Mr. Koepping,
Miss Kinhofer, Mr. Horst.

As uncertain Freshmen . . .

At first we Freshmen were lost and bewildered by the crowds of students pushing through the halls. Hordes of books, study hall passes, pep assemblies, games and elections rushed at us all at once. Our time and energy were swallowed up in high school.

By the time we learned how to work our combinations, we were taking it all in. We took part in our first stunt show and our clubs and sports.

From the first grades we received to the last final exam, we rapidly became a part of P.H.S. Its games, assemblies, "pop tests," and new friends belonged to us. The year went faster than we realized. We enjoyed our first year at Central, and confidently are ready for the next three.

"WHAT CONSTITUTES BEING A GOOD CITIZEN?"

How would you answer this question? It came from an eighth grade student as a part of a class citizenship project.

HERE'S THE WAY A CATERPILLAR EXECUTIVE ANSWERED IT:

"To describe a good citizen in a few words is most difficult—much like trying to describe our great country in a few words. However, some qualifications of a good citizen certainly would be:

- A fundamental belief in God.
- A deep sense of honesty and integrity.
- Moral character above reproach—the result of personal convictions rather than fear of public opinion.
- An interest in one's community coupled with a willingness to work long and hard for its betterment.
- A true sense of value, recognizing that there is no such thing as something for nothing. Everything we achieve, everything we get, must be earned.

- A love of the freedoms guaranteed by our Constitution and Bill of Rights, and a willingness to protect these freedoms.
- A desire to search for and find the truth and not be swayed by the emotions of others.
- A sense of duty when it comes to exercising our great American privilege of voting, based on thoughtful consideration of the issue or office involved—and the same sense of duty when jury, military or public office responsibilities should be met.

It is difficult indeed to describe citizenship in a few words. I hope these thoughts will be helpful."

Dick Warren, Linda Szold, Celeste Neuman, and Bob Bovenschulte walk the path of the future at Bradley University.

The Quest for Knowledge . . .

. . . is not over once the high school cap and gown is donned. In fact, graduation is just the launching pad for attaining those post-grad goals. In such modern times as these, whether it is on the job, in the home, or on the college campus, maybe we tend to lose sight of the fact that the educational process is never really completed. We find, that the longer we live, the less we know and the search for knowledge and understanding is never finished.

MAN
must act to improve his world

Man has used the earth to do many great things, but the time has come when the earth cannot provide man with unlimited resources. For many years man robbed the earth of its riches, never replacing the stolen goods. He failed to realize that his selfishness and carelessness would one day lead to a fight for his survival. Even with his life at stake, he finds it difficult to give up a few conveniences in order to save his environment.

MAN
must learn before he can act

To ensure that his action will be beneficial to his fellowman, man must possess knowledge. Although it is impossible for man to learn all the facts in every subject area, he should be acquainted with much. The learned man will value the knowledge that he can obtain from books for they represent the storehouse of information of the past, but he will also value the lessons he acquires from his experiences. Learning through his own efforts will teach him that accepting statements without proof can be harmful. He should be prepared to question proposed hypotheses and to search for his own answers. Man's possession of knowledge will enable him to improve himself as well as help his fellowman and his environment.

must be sound in mind
and body

If man is to take action with the knowledge he has gained, he must have a sound body. Every man cannot be as physically fit as the athlete, but he can keep his body healthy. A healthy body provides a better opportunity for a developed mind to act. The mind can show man what actions to take, but it can do nothing to make the body act if the body is unfit for action. A man with a healthy mind and body can finish the job he starts.

MAN
must be aware of his fellowman

In our society no man can completely isolate himself. It makes no difference what race he is or what job he holds, he is constantly in contact with his fellowman. Man depends on others not only for economic reasons, but also for the friendship they have to offer. This friendship is important to him because the sharing of his deepest emotions with someone who cares is one of the prized possessions of our society. However, caring for his fellowman cannot stop with a few friends, he must be concerned with all of mankind. His awareness of the problems his fellowmen face enables him to share the responsibility of helping the poor, illiterate and elderly.

MAN must be involved

Man is a social creature living in a complex society. In our diversified society each man must accept and share a part of the responsibility if we are to move forward. He must stand for what he believes even if it means going against popular opinion. He should listen to what others have to say with an open mind, but if he sincerely believes in something, he should be willing to fight for it. He should not let ridicule keep him from participating in events that he believes are justified. Even if he loses the battle, his self-defeat would be greater if he had ignored the problem and joined the crowd. He cannot expect others to do more than he is willing to do. If he lets others do the job or passes the duty on to someone else, he has no right to complain. He must be willing to put forth effort if he hopes to accomplish anything. He must be totally involved in his world.

$3.6 million University Center opened

The beginning of winter quarter saw the opening of the doors to the $3.6 million University Center which features services ranging from a mini-market to a barber shop.

In the center one can find a new self-service bookstore which displays textbooks. The new center offers a better postal facility, an extended shopping area and a recreation room. The modern snack bar not only acts as a fast food service, but also as a meeting place for students. An OVC room decorated with wall paneling of OVC school colors is used for conferences, reading and lounging.

Also an auditorium is available with a seating capacity of 1,000. The third floor features many multipurpose rooms for conferences and workshops.

The additional space in the new building promotes more activities at Tech.

The spiral staircase is one of the main focal points of the university center.

Workmen construct a staircase which extends from the ground level to the second floor.

The university center offers new concepts in student life at Tech.

A comfortable and attractive student lounge is an added feature in the new facility.

Students find self-service is a new convenience of the university bookstore.

The snack bar provides a place where students can eat and relax between classes.

Faye Wyatt exhibits her skill at pool in the new pool room in the University Center.

New Center offers variety for students

With the opening of the new University Center came new facilities for students. Furniture placed throughout the new complex is very helpful to those who prefer to relax between classes. For those who are more energetic there is a recreation room with billiard tables. The modern snack bar provides quick food service.

The new Center provides several areas for friends to meet and talk.

New facilities add to students' enjoyment

A uni-turf was installed on the track encircling the football field.

Tech's campus has been expanding every year through construction. This year the new facilities include an artificial surface for outdoor sports, and a business administration building with new equipment and modern classrooms.

Tech's Overall Field has the largest artificially turfed field in the entire world. Poly-turf was installed on the football field, and uni-turf was laid for the track around the field. The total cost for both artificial surfaces was $345,000. Putnam County paid $245,000 of that amount for 25 years' use of the field by the county's Senior and Junior High Schools.

The new Business Administration Building was opened at the beginning of summer session, June, 1970. The building contains 69,000 square feet of floor space which houses classrooms, student lounge, library, data processing equipment, closed circuit television and offices for the faculty members. It also houses the Upper Cumberland Development District offices in 10 rooms in its northeast corner. The total construction cost of the building was approximately $1,250,000.

The football team gets ready to work out on the newly installed poly-turf.

both inside and outside the classroom

The Business Administration building has many extras to aid the student in a business field.

Students relax in business lounge.

The men from Smith Quad enjoy a game of pool after a day of classes.

The Snack Lounge can easily be converted into a study room.

Smith Lodge offers variety to students

After approximately 18 months of construction, Smith Lodge was opened for the residents of Smith Quad and other students, all of whom were looking for the conveniences it offered.

The lodge, decorated with dark oak mediterranean furnishings, has a lounge, television room, snack area, games and laundry rooms as well as living quarters for the overseer and two assistants.

The ground floor of the mini-student center offers a color television, study lounge and snack tables. In the basement of the three floor structure is the game room with pool tables, ping-pong tables and laundry facilities.

The main lounge serves as a place to study or a place to take a date.

Freshmen find a time to relax and get acquainted at the picnic on the quad.

2,008 frosh adjust to college routine

The first step for the freshmen was a matter of moving in and adjusting to dorm life. The freshmen were greeted at the dorm by their head residents. They were given a freshman package which contained an "Eagle" button, tickets and information concerning their first week at Tech. They were then asked to wear their name tag and beanie for the remainder of the week.

The freshmen's first week was a week of orientation. Assemblies were held to acquaint the students with services offered by the university. A faculty reception gave the freshmen a chance to meet their teachers. There were also a picnic on the quad, movies, and religious activities at the local churches. Freshman week was concluded with an all-campus dance featuring the Funny Farm.

President and Mrs. Derryberry greet the new freshmen at the faculty reception.

One of the freshmen's first responsibilities was the bonfire for Homecoming.

A student finds a coke float and the late afternoon sunshine are relaxing after classes.

Myra Rains and friends enjoy the lawn in front of Early Hall.

During campus elections every available spot is utilized for campaigning.

Many of the college men take an opportunity to acquaint themselves with the women's dorms.

Students gather on a spring afternoon to enjoy the shady quad.

Everyone anxiously awaits the arrival of mail with either a friend or money in mind.

The theme of Homecoming is captured by Tau Kappa Epsilon's float entry.

'Everything is Beautiful' reflects Homecoming

"Everything is Beautiful" weekend at Tech was a flurry of enthusiastic response marking Homecoming competition on the Tech campus. The Homecoming Olympics, float-building, dormitory and fraternity house decorations and high school band competition attracted large numbers of entrants.

On Friday afternoon contestants who entered the Homecoming Olympics participated in such events as the sleeping bag relay, egg toss, toilet paper relay, lifesaver-toothpick relay, sack relay and dizzy-izzy. Winners in the Homecoming Olympics were Phi Delta Theta in the men's division and Phi Mu in the women's division.

Saturday featured the parade, football game and a concert headlining "The Temptations."

Mrs. Mary Alice Little, a 1938 graduate of Tech was chosen the 1970 Homecoming Parade Grand Marshall. She led the caravan of automobiles, marching bands and floats along the parade route.

The first place position in the float building competition was captured by the National Society of Professional Engineers. McCord Hall won first place in the dormitory decorations competition among the men's residence halls. Unit B took first place in the women's dormitory decoration. The winners in house decorations category were Theta Tau and Phi Delta Theta.

"The Temptations" perform for a capacity crowd after the football game.

The Freshman class built a bon-fire for the pre-game pep rally.

With the help of the fire department the cheerleaders show their pep in the parade.

Unit B took top honors in the women's division of the dormitory decorations.

Some students find the Pep truck provides a better view of the Olympic games.

Phi Delta Theta's Golden Eagle helped them win first place in fraternity house decorations.

Twenty-four high school bands participated for top band awards in the Homecoming parade.

Dorms added a highlight to the parade by this entrant of their sweetheart.

One of the events of the Homecoming Olympics was the lifesaver-toothpick relay.

Originality and a lot of hard work go into a Homecoming float.

Students respond to name concerts

Frankie Valli and the Four Seasons start Spring Fling activities with a well received concert.

The winter concert featured the "Ides of March" along with the "Lightning Kite."

An enthusiastic crowd watched "The Temptations" perform medleys of their hit songs.

Kathy Howell is a contestant in the Spring Fling body painting contest.

Alpha Phi Omega sponsored the first annual Turtle Grand National.

Spring Fling events involve entire campus

Approximately 2,000 students participated in Spring Fling activities. Spring Fling consisted of three days of student entertainment sponsored by the Associated Student Body and Student Entertainment Organization. The weekend began with Frankie Valli and the Four Seasons in concert on Thursday night.

Friday afternoon events began with Delta Tau Delta's tug-of-war. That night Peter Sayers, a nationally known entertainer, hosted "A New Dimension"—1970 Carnicus. Carnicus gave campus groups a chance to give their version of events at Tech.

Events began Saturday with the all-campus picnic which was returned to campus after being held at area parks for several years. The picnic which was to be held in Sherlock Park was forced inside to the gym because of rain. A band was obtained to provide entertainment until the events got under way.

A body-painting contest sponsored by Phi Mu Alpha began the competitive events. After the body painting contest Alpha Phi Omega set up the race tracks for the first annual Turtle Grand National. Several heats had to be run before the champion of turtle racing could be crowned.

After the rain stopped, a chariot race was held outside with prizes going to the winners. For the students whose interests ranged beyond turtle and chariot racing, an auto-cross car competition was sponsored by the Golden Eagles Sports-car Club. Also an exhibition of free fall jumps was given by the Tech skydivers.

Sigma Chi's proudly accept first place in the chariot race.

Name talent plays at Tech

Throughout the year dances provide entertainment for Tech students.

Pete Sayers entertained students with his unusual musical talent.

"The Funny Farm" played at the dance in the new University Center after the Homecoming concert.

Bewildered Steve Wilder receives an "Everett" from Danny Shipp in TKE's Carnicus skit.

Carnicus grand prize goes to Phi Mu

One last laugh before finals was offered at "A New Dimension, Carnicus '70." An evening of humorous skits, Carnicus was written and produced by students.

Phi Mu sorority took overall honors with a take-off on "I Dream of Jeanne." Pretty girls and beautiful scenery helped zap up the big trophy.

In the men's division, Tau Kappa Epsilon won first by giving the "Everett" awards to many groups and individuals. Sigma Chi won second with its version of "Easy Rider."

Sigma Sigma Sigma won first in the women's division with the "Wizard of Oz." A trip to the moon won second place for Zeta Tau Alpha.

Emceed by Pete Sayers of WSM in Nashville, Carnicus was one of the favorite activities of Spring Fling. It sailed off for a few hours of comic relief before the faculty got the last laugh.

Peggy Arnett questions Frances Smith about her illegally parked bottle in Phi Mu's skit.

The Tech Community Orchestra is directed by Dr. James Wattenbarger.

Music groups tour state

Tech's musical groups toured the state widely in 1971. The International Brass Quintet toured with the Tennessee Arts Commission.

Four members of the quintet comprise the brass faculty at Tech while the remaining brass player is a student. A featured soloist with the quintet is Carl Gorodetzky, director of strings at Tech. This spring the quintet performed for the Southern Division of MENC in Daytona.

Winter quarter the varsity choir made a tour through East Tennessee. The Tech Troubadours and the concert band made individual visits to schools throughout the state spring quarter.

The International Brass Quintet has performed in more than 25 programs this year.

Tech's varsity choir rehearses for its major tour through East Tennessee.

Teddy Bart, WSM's Noon Show emcee, hosts the 1971 All-Sing.

Lane Miller proudly accepts the winning trophy for Kappa Sigma.

All-Sing On Broadway production

The fourth annual All-Sing, sponsored by Phi Delta Theta social fraternity, was truly an "On Broadway" production. Emceed by Teddy Bart, a Nashville television personality, "On Broadway" provided its participants an evening to show their originality as well as their talent. The event was open to any organized group on campus.

Alpha Delta Pi captured the first place trophy and $75 in the women's division for their rendition of "Hello, Young Lovers," "I Could Have Danced All Night," and "Almost Like Being in Love." Kappa Sigma took the top honors in the men's division by performing "Hey, Look Me Over," "How to Handle a Woman," and "There's Nothing Like a Dame."

In the men's division Alpha Phi Omega and Sigma Chi earned the second and third place honors, respectively. Phi Mu and Kappa Delta took these honors in the women's division.

Under the direction of Mike Register, Alpha Delta Pi places first in the women's division.

Tech Players present drama each quarter

During spring quarter the Tech Players presented "The Amorous Flea." The production was a bawdy, three-act comedy with music based on Moliere's "School for Wives." The lead was played by Douglas Tidwell, dramatics teacher and director of the Players.

The fall production, "The Dark of the Moon," was a folk drama set in an isolated area of the Smoky Mountains. The drama is derived from the simple, fundamentalist religion of the mountain folk and their belief in the supernatural.

Frank Gilroy's "The Subject was Roses" was presented winter quarter. The rose was a symbol for love in the award-winning drama. The drama had only three characters with a modest set consisting of a living room and a kitchen.

The Tech Players is an intricate part of Tech's Campus. The use of both students and faculty in their productions has proven popular with audiences.

Tech Players practice their parts for "The Amorous Flea" which was presented spring quarter.

Mark Draper practices singing for his part in "The Amorous Flea."

Pam Limbaugh gets the final touches to her make-up just before the curtain rises.

Betty Jo Russell served as stage manager in the production of "The Dark of the Moon."

Tech Players Douglas Tidwell, Mark Draper and Jane Carpenter perform in "The Amorous Flea."

Harry Posey portrays one of the mountain folk in "The Dark of the Moon."

Students from Tech Training school have a chance to welcome Cosmouse after his journey.

Cosmouse: A new experience for Tech

Cosmouse, a rodent not much larger than the palm of a hand, received front-page coverage in some of the largest dailies in Tennessee when he rode a rocket some 1,000 feet into the sky over Tech on May 22, 1970.

One year after the launch, Cosmouse died of old age and his death once again became a front-page story.

What was it all about? Dr. Elmo Dooley, professor of biology who had helped design some of the systems that were used in the United States' initial space flights, decided that his students could learn a great deal more about problems of space flight if an actual launch were made. So Cosmouse was wired for the flight so that his heart beat and other items could be monitored.

Dr. Dooley and his students received calls from self-named humane society members in an attempt to block the flight.

But the launch took place on schedule on a clear Monday with many students and newsmen watching the blastoff and recovery.

Many hours of diligent work were spent assembling the rocket and its components.

After the journey into the sky Cosmouse was parachuted back to Overall Field.

The rocket is being placed on the launching pad at Overall Field.

Dr. Dooley pushes the button that sends Cosmouse 1,000 feet into the sky.

Monday luncheon-forums gave students and administrators the opportunity to listen to each other.

As ASB president, Steve Dozier was one of the presiding officers at the luncheon-forum.

Forum aids faculty-student communication

When Public Programs was deleted from the curriculum at the end of spring quarter, the President's coffee was also eliminated.

To encourage administration-student communication, a Monday luncheon-forum was initiated. All students, faculty members and administrators were invited and encouraged to attend.

A question-and-answer session helped to show some of the problems on campus and how they are handled. Many policies and regulations were explained. The sessions also gave administrators an opportunity to answer questions raised through letters to the student newspaper.

What will be the next building to be constructed on campus? Will Tech have a speaker program to replace Public Programs? What is being done to remove ice from sidewalks during winter months? Will Tech raise its tuition and maintenance fees? These were some of the questions that were answered.

William Patterson, director of cooperative education, and ASB senator Rocky Hendrickson discuss the value of cooperative education.

ROTC continues re-evaluation

A familiar sight on a Thursday afternoon is cadets wandering from one company to another trying to find their particular platoon and squad. However, this Thursday afternoon tradition may soon be coming to an end. The State Board of Education has made plans to phase out the mandatory ROTC program on state campuses. By 1972, ROTC will be offered strictly on a voluntary basis.

During fall quarter, the military science department was given official academic recognition by the University. It is now possible for a student to obtain a first minor in military science. Students who acquire a minor must take a commission in the Army upon graduation.

The ROTC program at Tech is designed so that the student not only receives classroom instruction, but also has applied leadership drills where each student assumes a leadership role. The Rangers, Scabbard and Blade, and Rebel Rifles are types of specialization which are active in military science.

Ray Carter, Dave Kaser, and Bob Aylward are recognized for their shooting abilities.

ROTC Sponsors Dee Higdon and Patti Womack meet with area civic leaders.

ROTC Cadets receive extra training by taking care of the flag in front of Derryberry Hall.

Dorms redecorated; lifted restrictions improve dorm life

To make on-campus living more like home Tech sought out ways to improve Dixie Hall and Southeast Hall. Both of these dorms feature private rooms with telephones to be installed soon. Cable television was installed for those who like to watch TV in their room with friends. The halls and lounges were carpeted to help remedy the noise and to improve the general atmosphere.

Tennessee Tech also has lifted some of the restrictions which are placed on Tech women. Last spring the Tech women were given extended hours. The upper-classmen who have parental permission may have unlimited hours, while the others enjoy midnight and 2 o'clock curfews. For the first time, women who are 21 can live off campus.

TTU's growth influences future

Janet Dishman adjusts her fiance's cap before graduation exercises.

Tech's growth can be seen through its expanded graduate program. In 1970 approximately 150 students applied for their master's degree for the June or August graduation. Tech also graduated the largest engineering class in the state.

The speaker at the 1970 June exercises was Dr. Edward J. Boling, the newly appointed president of the University of Tennessee. Boling was the Vice-President of Administration and Development before replacing Dr. Andrew D. Holt as president. Dr. Boling spoke on the good relationship between Tech and UT. He especially praised the work of Tech president Everett Derryberry.

After Dr. Boling spoke, President Derryberry gave his annual charge to the graduating class. He told the graduates that the public would judge this institution by "its measure of you." The diplomas were then presented to the class.

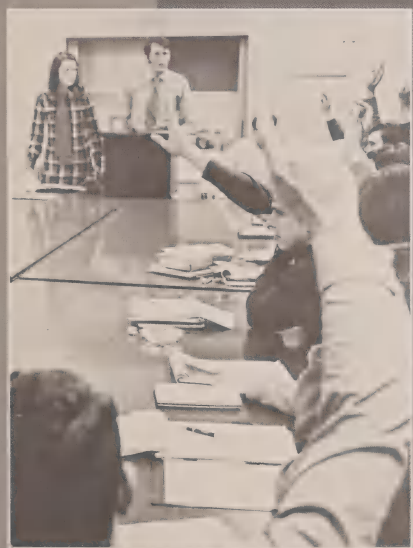

A reception and luncheon was held in the cafeteria for the class and their family and friends following graduation exercises.

New ASB constitution adds judiciary

Under the leadership of Associated Student Body President Steve Dozier, a new constitution was put into action which instituted a judicial branch of government. With this addition, the ASB was served by an executive, legislative and judicial branch.

Powers vested in the judicial branch included the right of the Student Supreme Court to hear, try and pass judgment on all cases brought before it involving the constitution. It also allowed judgment on infractions not previously covered by judiciary systems concerning university regulations. Chief Justice of the Student Supreme Court was Richard Frounfelker.

Prior to the beginning of fall quarter, the ASB sponsored a senate leadership conference at Hi-Lake resort. Various administrators and student leaders discussed the forthcoming academic year and tried to present a plan of working ideas for the student body.

Also active in the ASB are the Tech Women's Organization and the Tech Men's Dormitory Organization. The two groups worked for changes in dorm visitation and rules.

Precision marks band performances

Golden Girls high-stepping routines add entertainment to half-time shows.

A march in the inauguration parade, precision routines and music highlighted a season of hard work and long hours for the Tennessee Tech Golden Eagle Marching Band.

Directed by Wayne Pegram of the Tech music department, the band began drilling prior to the onset of fall quarter. The impressive field shows at football games and polished musical numbers which they presented served as a constant reminder of the band's hard work.

Graced by the lovely Golden Girls, headed by Patti Womack, the band traveled to various away ball games and to a number of parades cross the state. Among these parades was the inauguration parade held in Nashville for the newly-elected Governor Dunn.

The band is composed of music majors, for the most part, and is an excellent way for participating members to acquire training in leadership as well as in music.

Outdoor work, fun highlight activities for Tech students

Accompanying any trend of warm weather, Tech students flock to the out-of-doors and to their favorite pastimes.

Agriculture majors can participate in many activities as the School of Agriculture houses six clubs among which are the Block and Bridle and the Rodeo team. Being involved in activities related to their fields enables the Ag majors to learn about their work as they devote a great deal of time and effort to promoting their sport through rodeos.

Θ T chapter voted national best

Tech's chapter of Theta Tau, national professional engineering fraternity, was voted among the top chapters at their biennial convention held in Houston, Texas.

Represented by six members, the chapter was recipient of the "Best Newsletter Award," as well as being chosen to receive the Eric J. Shrader Award, the highest award given to a chapter.

Being active in campus life, Theta Tau exists as a top contender in intramural sports and has leaders in student government as well as in various other campus organizations.

This year the organization moved into a new house on Walnut Street, as its membership continued to grow.

AΦΩ sponsors service projects to aid students

Tech's only service fraternity, Alpha Phi Omega, contributes to civic and service projects in the Tech community.

Sponsoring the annual March of Dimes dance each winter quarter, Alpha Phi Omega contracted area rock bands to donate their time as they performed for the dance. All proceeds went to the March of Dimes.

The group sponsored a blood drive to help the county reach its quota. For those persons without transportation to the bloodmobile, Alpha Phi Omega provided the service. On campus the group assists in elections and registration.

For the first time, Alpha Phi Omega participated in All-Sing this year, capturing second place in the men's division. Directed by James Henry, the group sang their way to the winner's position with a song from "Camelot".

Honor societies note deserving students

Leadership and scholastic abilities are only two of the many bonds common to those persons of the Tech community who are associated with national honorary groups on campus.

Regardless of the college or area of study represented in the various societies, those persons affiliated are chosen by outstanding characteristics in their field. The groups are designed to recognize students of superior abilities and high scholastic records.

The promotions of these extracurricular activities come from faculty and administrators alike, since these groups offer opportunities for the development of individual initiative and cooperation among the participants.

Three quarters of planning, scheduling pictures, talking with a printer culminated in a crash course in a nervous breakdown near the end of the winter quarter as editors tried to meet the final deadline. It was met by night work between quarters.

Trying to keep the book on schedule became difficult. The 1971 Eagle editors suffered through the usual persons who would not answer memos and who would not call the photographer when they missed their picture appointments.

Grace Pope, editor-in-chief, spent most of her spare moments in the Eagle office or out on campus trying to locate an elusive administrator or one of her own staff members who had "promised" to do something.

Oracle coverage relates Tech to national issues

National and local problems dealing with such topics as abortion, drug abuse, student unrest, smoking and pollution became major stories in Tech's weekly student newspaper.

Keeping up with the news surrounding some 6,000 students pushed the staff into many late night sessions in the Oracle office. Frequent trips to administrators' office, the city police department, and a trip to cover the inauguration ceremonies of Governor Dunn were a few of the things that took time outside the office.

Two new editorial positions were created this year to assist with paste-up and news coverage. Jessie Shelley became assistant business manager and Joyce Redden became editorial assistant. Fred Snow was circulation manager.

Walter Presswood, editorial page editor, wrote a series of articles on social problems. His writing drew fire from several quarters.

ATΩ has outstanding athletic season

This was the year for sports for Alpha Tau Omega as they clearly proved their abilities on the athletic field. The brotherhood captured first place in interfraternity football and first in interfraternity softball.

Again this year the ATΩs put on boxing gloves and played the women's extramural basketball team to raise money for the teams.

Sponsoring their annual Keystone Kapers with competitive games for the sororities, Alpha Tau Omega provided each sorority with a team of coaches for the games; the coaches helped each group prepare for the competition.

"Little Sister Rush" was held again this year for the ATΩs. Women were selected on the basis of beauty, personality and loyalty to the brotherhood.

ΔΤΔ colony receives national charter

Spring quarter was marked by excitement for Delta Tau Delta as they were established as a national chapter.

Participating in many campus activities Delta Tau Delta sponsored a slave sale in which they sold women from each sorority. These women were purchased by many persons to do odd jobs and work for the afternoon.

Also sponsored by the Deltas was their annual tug-of-war competition between fraternities and sororities held during spring fling. Fraternity teams pulled across a pit of water, while sororities competed over a designated line.

Kappa Sigma brothers sang their way to success in the fourth annual All-Sing this year, entitling them to a large trophy and cash prize. Presenting songs from "South Pacific" and "Camelot," the group performed for the Cerebral Palsy Telethon.

The brothers of Kappa Sigma also were busy remodeling their house and preparing for rush. All efforts seemed to pay off as the brotherhood boasted a large pledge class of 20.

Civic projects and fund-raising activities kept the Kappa Sigs busy this year. For the first time, they published the Kappa Sig calendar which was sold to the student body. The group was also very active in campus activities such as Lion's Roar, intramural sports and the Homecoming games.

ΛΧΑ becomes inter-fraternity basketball champ

Despite tremendous competition, the inter-fraternity basketball team of Lambda Chi Alpha won the title of champions in that league. Great team work and hard practice united to give the Lambda Chis that extra edge necessary to win. They also participated in other sports always promising to be stiff competition, whatever the game.

This year as in previous years, the Lambda Chis sponsored a "Haunted House" on Halloween. Entertaining underprivileged children at this party, the brothers dressed in costumes and provided the children with a memorable "spook" party.

Enthusiastic supporters of the Greek system, Lambda Chis have many campus leaders in both government and departmental organizations.

ΦΔΘ wins first in house decoration

"Bury the Colonels" was the theme of Phi Delta Theta's first place winner in the off-campus Homecoming decorations. Displaying a huge, brightly-dressed Eagle, the Phi Deltas worked many hours building this decoration.

One of the Phi Deltas' largest projects of the year was the sponsoring of the fourth annual All-Sing. "On Broadway" was selected as the theme of this year's program which was emceed by Teddy Bart, a Nashville television personality. The fraternity awarded large trophies and cash prizes to the winning groups.

Active in campus activities, Phi Delta Theta won first place in Lion's Roar and Homecoming Olympics this year. They also sponsored the Ugliest Man on Campus contest. This contest raises money for needy families in the Cookeville area.

Projects finance Σ AE remodeling

The large "Green house" on Willow Street has undergone renovation this year with the total remodeling of the interior of the house. In order to do this decorating the brothers had numerous work projects. Among these were chopping and selling firewood, holding car washes, clearing land and doing odd jobs for local townspeople and merchants.

The brothers of Σ AE are not only interested in working for themselves, but have held many service projects. Sigma Alpha Epsilon collected a large number of contributions for the Heart fund. The brothers also worked for the bloodmobile and helped the city by unloading license plates.

As a part of the largest national fraternity, Tennessee Delta chapter also sponsors many of the activities that are representative of their national fraternity. Each year in the spring a Luau is held. All attending are attired in appropriate Hawaiian dress and are treated to Hawaiian foods.

ΣΧ realizes ambition— moves to new house

Highlighting fall quarter for the men of Sigma Chi was their transition to a beautiful new fraternity house on Dixie Avenue. Since their move, the fraternity has continued to be active and has held many functions at the new location.

This year for the first time, selection was made of "Little Sigmas." These women, chosen by the brotherhood, actively support the fraternity. Their new role allows these women to assist in rush and to aid the fraternity in many of their service projects.

Trophies have also become a permanent fixture at the Sigma Chi house as they have recorded many victories in campus activities. By receiving the second place award for off-campus housing during the Homecoming festivities, Sigma Chi's took honors in that category for the fourth consecutive year. A well presented satire on "Easy Rider" won them a second place in the men's division in Carnicus, and a good performance in All-Sing netted the third place men's trophy.

ΣΦΕ holds Day Care Christmas party

As a service project Sigma Phi Epsilon held a Christmas Party at the Cookeville Day Care Center. Providing presents for the children, as well as refreshments, the brothers entertained the children and helped make the holiday season more enjoyable for all.

The Sig Ep's also participated in various campus activities throughout the year. Intramural sports found the Sig Ep's as top contenders. Carnicus and All-Sing were also among the activities of the brotherhood.

During fall quarter, dinner was served at the Sigma Phi Epsilon house to each of the sororities on campus. The Sig Ep's are the only group on campus who regularly serve meals to their members at the fraternity house.

Intramurals were a field of victory for the TKEs as they placed first in the volleyball competition in the fraternities. Interfraternity football saw the TKEs winning the second place trophy.

Active in community civic projects, the TKEs entertained at their annual Christmas party for underprivileged children, sponsored an area boy scout troop and collected donations for a heart patient.

IFC strives to promote fraternity rush

Acting as a common bond between the various fraternities on campus, the Inter-Fraternity council is constantly striving to improve and promote the Greek life on Tech's campus.

Working together, men from each of the respective fraternities share the common goal of building the Greek system to being an important part of college life.

This year the IFC spent a great deal of time and money in promoting rush week. Signs were posted; broadcasts were made on local radio stations, and advertisements were run in the area papers. The IFC also directed printing of pamphlets which provided information on each of the individual fraternities.

$\Lambda\Delta\Pi$ rates number one in All-Sing

Pledge Nancy Anderson and escort Larry Lynch are present at the Black Diamond Ball.

Dressed in azure blue gowns, the sisters of Alpha Delta Pi sang their way to the winner's circle in the fourth annual All-Sing. Their renditions of such tunes as "Hello, Young Lovers" and "I Could Have Danced all Night" earned the sisters the right to perform for the Cerebral Palsy telethon.

AΣA members vote to discontinue

Winter quarter of this year the members of Alpha Sigma Alpha voted to disband on Tech's campus.

Alpha Sigma Alpha participated in many campus activities. Derby Day and the Homecoming Olympics were among the competitive games in which the sisters took part.

The sisters of Alpha Sigma Alpha also held suppers for the various fraternities as well as holding service projects in the community. Several members were active in honorary and professional groups on campus.

Scholarship was a goal attained by the sisters of Kappa Delta this year as they accepted the Panhellenic trophy for the highest scholastic average among the sororities for three consecutive quarters. Within the sisterhood, academics were also stressed by awarding a trophy to the member with the most improved grades for the quarter.

Kappa Delta played an active role on campus. They won the second place honors in Derby Day and third place in All-Sing competition this year. Each month the group also presented an award to a fraternity man who they felt contributed a great deal to campus life.

Mentally retarded become project for Zeta Tau Alpha

In accordance with their national project of working for the National Association for the Mentally Retarded, the local chapter of Zeta Tau Alpha sponsored a Christmas party for the mentally retarded in this area. Held in the community center, the group entertained the children with games and refreshments.

Also as a service project, the Zeta's helped clean the fraternity houses on campus. Held fall quarter, this project assisted the fraternities in preparing for rush.

Active in campus activities, members of ZTA presented the first place skit in the women's division of Carnicus spring quarter as well as participating in Sigma Chi's Derby Day.

The sisters of Zeta Tau Alpha also captured the third place honors in Keystone Kapers and second place in the Homecoming Olympics.

Panhellenic Council publishes first rush booklet

For the first time the Panhellenic Council distributed a rush booklet to acquaint potential rushees with the Greek system. One of the largest jobs done by the council is that of setting standards and guidelines for both formal and informal rush.

The Panhellenic Council is the advisory governing body of the six sororities on campus. Primarily it is concerned with coordinating the activities of the sororities. Friendship and understanding among the sororities is an additional benefit.

Led by Panhellenic President Melinda Bilbrey and Advisor Dean Elizabeth Murphy, the group strives to promote Greek life on campus. The council urges each group to actively participate in campus activities as well as to place stress on scholarship.

The council strives to provide supervision and direction for the sorority system as a whole. Any infraction of Panhellenic rules are tried before a group of Panhellenic members.

The Panhellenic Council held a coke party for potential rushees fall quarter.

Homecoming Queen and Court

Pam White reigns over 'beautiful' day

Pam White

Pam White reigned as the 1971 Homecoming Queen. Her selection underscored other honors awarded her as a Tech co-ed. Pam led the Golden Eagles cheering squad this year. Sigma Alpha Epsilon chose her as its sweetheart. Pam is a member of Zeta Tau Alpha and represented that group on Parhellenic. Majoring in secondary education-English, Pam is from Cookeville.

Kathy Howell

Kathy is, too, representative of Tech spirit. She is an elementary education major from Cookeville. The Tech Choir, Chorale, and Concert Choir are her favorite activities. Alpha Tau Omega selected her as its sweetheart; she was a "little sister" last year. Kathy was historian for Phi Mu.

Amy Newport

Amy is from McMinnville and is majoring in English. She is Kappa Sigma sweetheart and calendar girl. Amy was selected for membership her freshman year in the Freshman Women's Honor Society. While a member of the Avant-Garde, she was the secretary. Amy is a member of Kappa Delta.

Gayle Rogers

Gayle has many superlative titles to her credit. She was a freshman class beauty and Queen of the Engineer's Ball. She was Sigma Phi Epsilon sweetheart and TMDO calendar girl twice. She is ROTC Brigade Sponsor and a member of Alpha Delta Pi. Gayle is from Kingston and is an English major.

Connie Smith

From Conway, Ark., Connie Smith is majoring in History. She has been a ROTC sponsor twice—Scabbard and Blade sweetheart and Rebel Rifles' sponsor. Last year she was a junior class beauty. Sigma Chi chose her as a "Little Sigma." Connie is a member of Alpha Delta Pi.

Mr. and Miss Tech

Debbie and Andy active in campus life

Miss Tech, Debbie Cassetty, is a health and physical education major from Gainesboro. Debbie was a varsity cheerleader this year. She has been an ROTC sponsor and has participated actively in intramural sports. She is a member of Phi Mu.

Mr. Tech, Andy Thompson, is an industrial engineering major from Cookeville. He has been active in class activities and in intramural sports. Andy has served as president and vice president of Sigma Alpha Epsilon.

5 seniors chosen for Eagle Honor Society

The Eagle Honor Society is based on the student's active participation in extra-curricular activities and on academic achievement at Tech. A standard point system is used to determine members where points are given for each activity, honor or scholarship the student has received. The tabulation of points is based on the information the students supply on their senior information sheet. The five students with the highest number of total points are selected for the Eagle Honor Society.

Since the selection is dependent on achievement at Tech, these students represent the leading contributors to activities on Tech's campus. Although these students may not hold any campus-wide office or honor, they are among the ones that work for the school behind the scenes.

The Eagle would like to congratulate Dianne Carver, Grace Pope, Marion Halfacre, Ronnie Sharpe, and Julia Jarrell for their achievement in the various aspects of college life.

Turf premiere is a little on wet side

Tech's Overall Field was covered with an artificial surface prior to the 1970 season, just in time to catch the rains of Cookeville's unpredictable weather.

As workers were putting the finishing touches on the 103,800 square feet of green Poly-Turf and gold Uni-Turf blanketing the football field and encircling track, Tech's gridders made their season debut on the road at Youngstown, Ohio.

A tremendous offensive show, including 429 yards total offense (396 of them coming on the ground) was the key to a 32-19 Tech victory over the Youngstown State Penguins, marking the first time since 1963 that the Eagles had won their initial season contest.

Meanwhile, rain had drenched Overall Field prior to Tech's first home game of the year and it was still coming down when Murray State kicked off to Tech to start the contest.

But the rain didn't slow Butch Strickland, whose 41-yard touchdown return of a intercepted pass turned out to be the clinching score as the Eagles knocked off the Racers, 21-7.

The installation of more than 100,000 square feet of Poly-Turf gave Overall Field a new look.

Golden Eagle players congregate around the coaches for a pre-game prayer.

Neither rain, nor mud, nor coldness of day stops a 1970 spring practice session.

Eagles play in streaks: win 3, then lose 6

Quarterback David Fair, forced out of the pocket, scrambles around right end. . . .

. . . and hurdles a fallen teammate on his way to a good gain against Eastern Kentucky.

The Eagles extended their winning streak to three games after beating Murray by edging the University of Tennessee at Martin, 17-6, in a bruising defensive battle.

Then good fortune turned to bad and the Eagles proceeded to lose twice as many games as they had won.

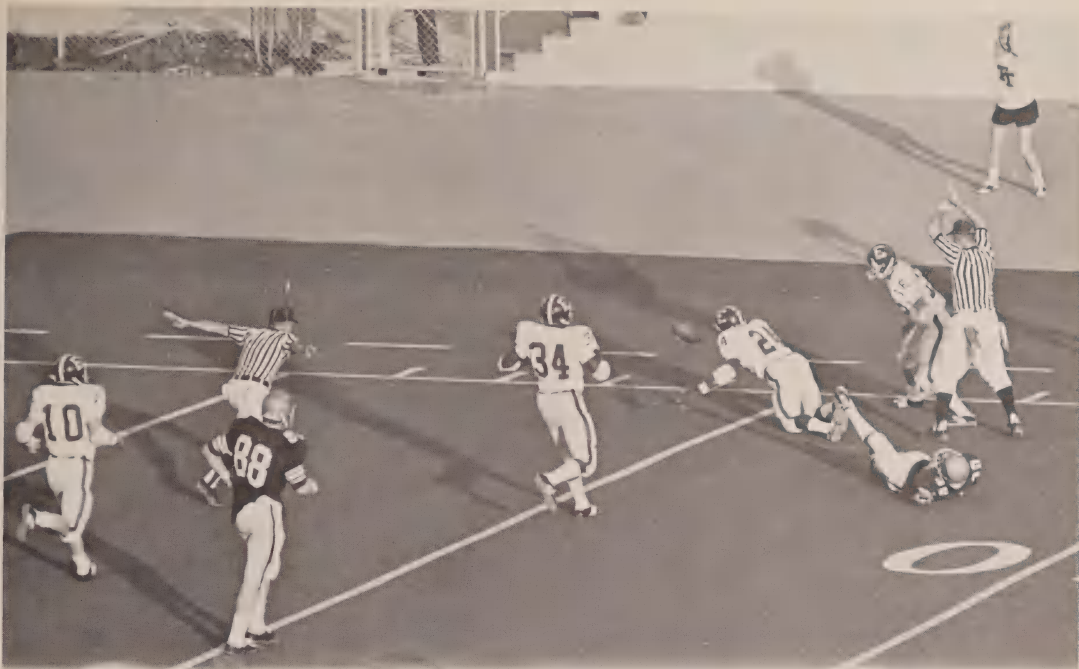

Everything went wrong at East Tennessee and Tech fell for the second straight year by a 30-7 score.

Back home the next Saturday against conference powerhouse Western Kentucky, the Eagles managed a paltry 135 yards on offense and were shut out for the fourth year in a row by the Hilltoppers, this time by 28-0.

Junior David Fair relieved sophomore Steve Ailey at the starting quarterback spot the next week against Morehead and performed well, completing eight passes, one of them for a touchdown, but Tech was beaten soundly, 31-10.

UT Chattanooga, winless up to this point in the season, supplied a crushing blow by whipping the Eagles in the season's seventh game, 21-7.

The skid then reached its climax on Homecoming Day as the Golden Eagles put up a valiant effort but were beaten by strong Eastern Kentucky, 20-13.

David Fair's pass, too long for Hank Patterson, barely eluded the grasp of an Eastern safetyman.

Shinny-Ninny renews lease; Tech whips Raiders, 17-13

The Golden Eagles salvaged a 4-6 season in their final game of the season, the traditional Thanksgiving Day clash with Middle Tennessee, by defeating the Blue Raiders 17-13.

It was the third straight year that Tech had bested MTSU, thereby keeping Shinny-Ninny, the totem pole which goes to the winner of the contest.

Butch Strickland was the hero of the game, returning an interception 68 yards for the deciding touchdown.

Cagers slump to worst season in history

Losing eight of its last nine games and 10 of its last 12, Tech's Golden Eagle basketball team fell from a promising start to a miserable 7-17 season record.

The 17 losses are the most ever recorded by a squad of Eagle cagers.

After recovering from five losses in their first six contests by winning four of their next six, the Eagles could register victories only against Pan American and Austin Peay the rest of the way.

Tech finished with a 4-10 OVC record.

High-scoring guards pace Eagle offense

The Golden Eagles, burdened by a lack of height all season, were carried offensively by three top-shooting guards.

Backcourt men Al Lewis, Wayne Pack and Dan Furlong were the only Eagles with scoring averages in double figures.

Lewis led the team with a 17.6 average, made 49.5 per cent of his field goal tries, and established an Ohio Valley Conference record by making 32 consecutive free throws in nine games.

Pack, only a fraction of a point behind Lewis with a 17.5 scoring average, hit on 46 per cent of his field goal attempts, but his major contribution to the team was his dribbling and passing ability.

Named to the All-OVC team as a sophomore, Pack recorded a season total of 161 assists, including a Tech record of 16 in one game against Morehead State.

Furlong, who sat out the first seven games due to a shoulder injury, shot 48 per cent from the field and averaged 13.8 points per game.

Ed Kovach, the only senior on the squad, tossed in 9.9 points per contest and was the Eagles' leading rebounder with an 8.5 average.

Center Maury Schwegman helped out on the boards by pulling in an average of 7.8 grabs per game.

Miller leads frosh to 9-9 season slate

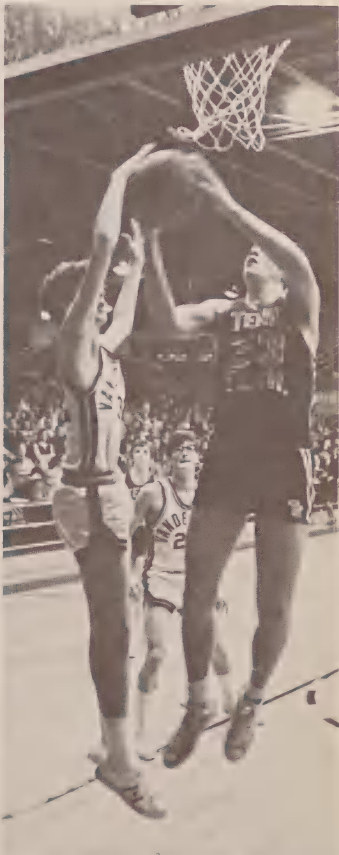

Paced by Howard Miller, a 6-8 center, Tech's freshman basketball team posted a 9-9 record in 1970-71.

Miller was the fledglings' leading scorer with an average of 19.9 points per game and also was the top rebounder with a 13.5 mark.

Guard Jim Clemens tossed in 18.5 points a contest and running mate Mark Robinson sported a 17.9 average.

Mark Bray rounded out a quartet of double-figure scorers with a 14.7 mark while Scott Mauger, the other starting forward, chipped in with 10.2 rebounds per game.

The Baby Eagles had a 2-6 OVC record, defeating Austin Peay twice and losing to East Tennessee twice, Western Kentucky and Middle Tennessee.

Mark Robinson's layup try is foiled by a Vandy guard in the final frosh game of the season.

Diamondmen sparkle, win division crown

Winning its last seven conference games, Tech's baseball team won the Eastern Division championship in 1970 for the first time since 1956, only to lose the OVC title to Murray in the playoff.

Under the able leadership of head coach W. A. Wright and assistant coaches Dave Pratt and Jim Whaley, the Golden Eagles rolled to a 21-14 season record and posted a 9-3 conference slate.

The Eagles built their offensive attack around hustling, aggressive and heads-up play, utilizing the stolen base, squeeze play and hit-and-run.

Those go-go tactics helped the Eagles win their first seven games and 11 of their first 12.

A batting slump then sent the "Mod Squad," the nickname given Tech for its striking purple and gold home uniforms, into a tailspin which was finally halted after six straight losses.

But the Eagles finished strong, averaging nearly eight runs per game in their last eight regular season games.

Tech then lost to Murray, 6-3 and 5-3, for the conference championship.

Irby-led Eagles rewrite record book

Eric Brown explains a few of the finer points of the game to pitcher Randy Ayer.

Tech ballers tied or surpassed the amazing total of 59 team and individual records in 1970.

Morris Irby led the assault on the record book, shattering six old batting marks and nine former fielding standards, including season records for most runs scored (39), most stolen bases (21), most bases on balls (28), most times hit by pitched ball (tied, 5), and most assists by a third baseman (83).

Bill Maclin established a new season mark for most doubles with eight and tied the record for triples with five, as well as setting a new standard for putouts by an outfielder with 64.

Tom Turner set a single-game record by drawing four walks against Morehead and Irby tied two others by scoring four runs and stealing four bases, both against Morehead in the same game.

As a club, Tech set marks for most hits (246), most doubles (40), most triples (17), most extra-base hits (69), most bases on balls (152), most stolen bases (78) and most strikeouts (186).

Tom Turner's perfect squeeze bunt drove home a decisive run against Eastern Kentucky.

Bill Maclin hits the dirt after blasting a two-run triple against Eastern Kentucky.

Five Eagles shine on All-OVC squad

Outstanding individual performances placed five Golden Eagles on the 1970 All-OVC team.

Joe Wesche, named to the team as a shortstop for the second consecutive year, earned the spot by hitting .333 and setting a Tech record by driving in 30 runs.

Bill Maclin, Tech's leading hitter at .394, and Jim Norris, .296, were all-league outfielders.

Danny Huffines, with a 14-0 regular season pitching record, was an all-conference right-handed hurler, and Eric Brown made the team as a rookie catcher.

Second baseman Emerson Wiles (.317) and third baseman Morris Irby (.327 and five home runs) made honorable mention.

The quick wrists of Jim Norris enabled the pint-sized outfielder to hit two homers in 1970.

Tracksters start fast, fall at finish

Tech's track and field squad breezed to easy victories in its first six dual meets of the 1970 season, but then faltered in the season finale and the subsequent Ohio Valley Conference meet.

The Golden Eagles dropped a 73-71 thriller to Middle Tennessee in the year's last regular season meet and then finished a disappointing fifth in the OVC tourney.

Tech also finished a close second to Middle Tennessee in the TIAC tournament.

Paced by javelin hurler Ed Hearn, who finished first in his event eight times, shot putter Roy Jones, with six first-place finishes, and pole vaulter Kent Buckley, also with six winning efforts, the Eagles set or tied 12 school records during the season.

Cross-country runners post successful season

Veterans Robert Bergeron, Jim Pearson and Jack Lanier helped guide the Golden Eagle cross-country team to an 8-2 dual meet record in 1970.

Bergeron won first place laurels in each of Tech's first five meets, three times finishing in a tie with Pearson.

The harriers ran to victory in their first eight meets of the season, including sweeps of the first five places against three opponents.

Tech's only losses came at the hands of Tennessee and East Tennessee in a double dual meet at the end of the year.

The Eagles also copped second place in the Western Kentucky Invitational at Bowling Green, and in the TIAC meet at Dayton, Tenn.

Netters' title bid foiled in stretch

Coach Ware is johnny-on-the-spot when Lester Brown snaps a racket string.

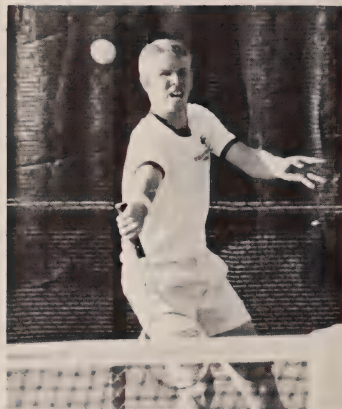

Not every return makes it back over the net, as Macky McMahon finds out against Lipscomb.

Losing its last three matches of the season, Tech's tennis team failed in its stretch run for the OVC championship, placing a close second to Western Kentucky.

However, Gary Burris and Rich Carpenter won conference singles titles at their respective positions while the Burris-Lester Brown and Carpenter-Larry Barr duos copped doubles crowns.

The linksmen also broke an 11-year victory drought on the tournament trail, capturing first place honors in the Se-

Darcy had the best individual match record on the squad, posting a 7-3-2 mark, while Jim Alexander's 76.2 18-hole stroke average was the team's lowest.

Riflers are second in nation to Murray

Under the expert coaching of Sgt. Robert Glass, Tech's sharpshooting rifle team marched to a second-place national ranking in 1970, being runner-up to Murray State.

Four Eagles were named to the All-American Rifle team: Bob Alyward made the first team; Ray Carter and Randy Schwartz made the second team; and Dave Koser made honorable mention.

Early in the 1971 season the Tech firers eclipsed the national record by posting a 1186 score out of a possible 1200 in a bid to capture the national title.

Glass, who nominated 10 Golden Eagles for All-America honors, predicts victory prior to every dual match and foresees the national crown in 1971.

4,500 students participate in intramurals

Action gets tough under the boards at an intramural basketball game.

The intramural program has grown about 10 per cent in the last year. Some 4,500 students, about two-thirds of the student body, have participated in at least one sport of the intramural program.

Basketball was the sport capturing the most interest with more than 2,000 participants. Football and softball was running a close second with more than 1,500 participants. Tennis was third with a little more than 1,000.

Many areas of intramural competition exist at Tech. They range from basketball to wrestling, from tennis to track, from horseshoes to archery. The program has been expanded to include gymnastics and cricket, bringing the total to 19. The list is at present being expanded to include rugby.

The mechanical engineers became all-campus champs in football when they defeated ATΩ. They ended the season with a 10-0 record.

Mechanical engineers became All-Campus football champs by defeating Alpha Tau Omega.

A sport for everyone is goal of intramurals

"A sport for everyone," said Coach Ray Drost, "is the whole idea behind the intramural program. I would like to see every student on campus involved in at least one intramural sport.

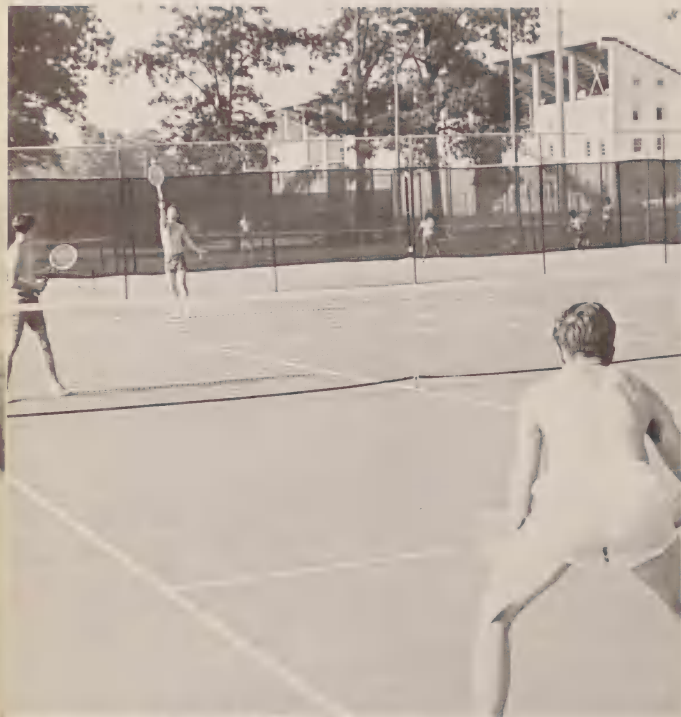

"With such a wide range of choices, it is difficult for a student not to find something he would like to do. If a student can't find something he likes to do on the list, a new activity can be added. Any activity can become intramural if at least 25 people are interested. Card games, chess, and checkers are good examples."

Despite the flourishing outlook of the intramural program, it also has its drawbacks. The three greatest needs of the intramural program, according to Coach Drost, are "Indoor facilities, indoor facilities, indoor facilities."

Coach Drost has often stated that Tech's intramural program could compare favorably with any intramural program found in any other college or university in the state.

del, Marilyn Jeffers, Anita Austin and Dianne Murphy.

Eaglettes have winning season

The volleyball team started the year by winning all the matches at the MTSU Invitational Tournament.

The team went on to take second place in the TTU Invitational, losing to Carson-Newman and MTSU. The team then traveled to the TCWSF State Tournament to defend its title of State Champs; the team had to drop to third place. "They're a great team, but they needed a little more experience," said Coach Marynell Meadows.

In basketball Tech took first place in the TTU Invitational and the TCWSF District Tournament. They kept the record up by taking second place in the TCWSF State Tournament. The Eaglettes ended the season with a 15-5 record.

Jackie Laxton led the offense with an average of 13.5 points a game. Following closely were Debbie Voiles with 11.7 points a game and Marilyn Jeffers with 10.7 points a game.

Wanda Heidel with an average of 10.4 rebounds a game and Bobbie Blalock with 6.2 interceptions a game led the defense.

Soccer team wins Eastern Division Championship

This year the men's extramural soccer team captured the Eastern Division championship with a season record of 4-1-1.

Four years ago five young men, who will graduate this spring, founded Tech's soccer team. The team has enjoyed four winning seasons with a 21-4-2 record. One season they were undefeated.

The team will lose seven members this spring, but the remaining players are looking forward to a winning season next year under the direction of Guenther Dietz who is returning as a full-time coach.

President speaks at UT commencement

President William Everett Derryberry was chosen to speak at the winter commencement exercises at the University of Tennessee where approximately 750 students received degrees. President Derryberry, a straight "A" graduate of the University of Tennessee, has the highest academic average of any other athlete who has ever been graduated from the University.

In 1970 President Derryberry recommended Dr. Wallace Prescott for the position of Vice-President of Tech. The State Board of Education approved the recommendation. This position was created to denote the next in authority in the absence of the president.

This year President Derryberry was named Chairman for the National Science Foundation Liaison of the American Association of State Colleges and Universities. This organization is composed of 276 state supported colleges and regional universities. President Derryberry also serves as the state representative to the association.

This year marked 30 years of service to Tennessee Tech by President Derryberry.

John Folger, J. Frank Taylor, Dale Glover, F. Thornton Strang, James J. Jones, Edward L. Jennings.

Former Governor Buford Ellington in the last year of his term had much influence on the education program. Ellington's term expired in January and Winfield Dunn was sworn in as governor. With Dunn's administration came a change in Tennessee's education officials.

State Commissioner of Education J. Howard Warf was replaced by E. C. Stimbert. Warf served as commissioner for more than eight years. During his term of office appropriations for education rose from $146,696,000 in 1961-62 to $378,364,400 in 1970-71. Under his leadership the vocational program was expanded and community colleges begun.

Stimbert has been active in many educational organizations.

Prescott appointed TTU Vice-President

Dr. Wallace S. Prescott was appointed to the newly instituted office of university vice-president. President Everett Derryberry recommended Prescott for this position and the State Board of Education approved the recommendation.

The purpose of this office is to designate and identify the senior administrative official in the absence of President Derryberry. In the past a successor-in-authority had never been officially declared.

Vice-President Prescott also holds his former title of Dean of Faculties. Prescott stated that the added role of vice-president would mean very little difference in his duties from that of his position as Dean.

Dean Fraser was the former head of the department of history and political science and coordinator of social sciences and humanities. Fraser heads the Faculty Committee of Research.

Dean Griffin replaced W. J. Huddleston who retired as director after 19 years of service. Griffin was a member of the faculty at the University of Tennessee before coming to Tech.

Col. Edward Downing dies of heart attack

Col. Edward P. Downing, professor of military science at Tech, died suddenly of a heart attack at his home in Cookeville during the Christmas holidays.

Downing, 52, came to Tech in September, 1969.

He received his Army commission as a second lieutenant at Eastern Kentucky State University and a science degree from the University of Nebraska.

His active military career started as a member of the 21st Field Artillery Battalion, 5th Division, Ft. Knox, in 1940. During World War II, he commanded a firing battery and was a member of the battalion staff in the S-3 (planning and teaching section) and served in five campaigns in the European theater.

His most recent tours of duty were with the 4th Armored Division in Europe, the Joint Task Force 4, Atlantic Command, and the Continental Command, Hampton, Va.

Downing was replaced by Lt. Col. Landing Boring, a TTU graduate, who returned to Tech in September, 1970.

A heart attack in December claimed the life of Col. Edward P. Downing.

Five teachers retire from service at Tech

Dean Willis J. Huddleston speaks at a banquet given in his honor. Dean Huddleston took over direction of agriculture at Tech in 1959.

Five teachers retired from Tech during the period covered by this yearbook. They are Willis J. Huddleston, dean of the Division of Agriculture of the School of Agriculture and Home Economics; Joyce S. Howard, Mary H. Jenks, R. H. Moorman, and Miser R. Richmond.

Dean Willis J. Huddleston directed Tech's Division of Agriculture from 1959 until his retirement at the end of the 1969-70 academic year.

He joined the Tech faculty in 1940 as an assistant professor of agronomy. Prior to his coming to Tech, he was a teacher of vocational agriculture. His name appeared in numerous agricultural honor societies. In 1961 he coached the winning team in the first National Soil Judging Contest. The Soil Conservation Society of America labeled him as "one of the pioneers in teaching soil conservation in the classroom."

Dean Huddleston is a graduate of Tech and George Peabody College. He did graduate work at Iowa State University and Mississippi State University.

Joyce S. Howard, associate professor of English, came to Tech in 1946 after receiving her Master's degree from the University of North Carolina. She received her Bachelor's degree from the University of Tennessee in 1927.

* * *

Mary H. Jenks, professor of English, came to Tech in 1955. She was graduated from Maryville College, 1942. In 1945 she received her Master's degree from the University of Tennessee. She returned to UT after beginning her work at Tech and completed her Doctor's degree in 1957.

* * *

R. H. Moorman, professor of mathematics, came to Tech in 1940. He received his Bachelor's degree from Roanoke College in 1933, his Master's degree from Vanderbilt University in 1934, and his Doctor's degree from George Peabody College in 1940. He did additional graduate work at the American University.

* * *

Miser R. Richmond, associate professor of biology, came to Tech in 1948. He received his Bachelor's degree from Maryville College in 1926, and his Master's degree from The University of Tennessee in 1939. He did additional graduate study.

579 graduate students enrolled at Tech

In the fall of 1970, 579 graduate students were enrolled at Tech. This represented the largest graduate enrollment in the history of the University with its 12-year-old graduate program. The number of graduate degrees given is now more than 150 with the June and August graduations combined.

The graduate faculty has a membership of 110 regular members and 16 associate members. Practically all of the regular members hold the doctorate, have published articles, and have had research and teaching experience.

In the spring of 1970 the first post-master's program, the Specialist in Education, was begun. Approval was also given for a Ph.D. program in Engineering although authorization to begin the program has not been received.

Graduate research increases at Tech

Research has become an essential element of graduate study. The student is now expected to make some contribution from his area of study. Because the graduate program is structured to be less formal than the undergraduate work, a greater responsibility has been placed on the student as he is expected to do research and gather data on his own.

To finance the extra cost of graduate school, loans and assistantships are available. The assistantship provides the student with an opportunity to teach or do research in his field of study.

In chemistry lab students learn experiments must be accurate.

Arts and Sciences changes dean and curricula

Dr. Richard H. Fraser was appointed Dean of College of Arts and Sciences. Fraser, former head of the department of history and political science, still heads Tech's faculty committee on research. Dr. Edmond D. Dixon was named the administrative assistant to Dean Fraser.

Dr. Jung Lin in physics won the "Outstanding Young Faculty Award." In English, a literary symposium was initiated where faculty members could present scholarly papers. The department of mathematics implemented a minor in computer science. With the aid of a $300,000 grant from the National Science Foundation, a biology station was developed on Center Hill Reservoir. The National Outdoor Leadership School planned to make use of the area during the summer.

Graduate program proposed in Business

A graduate program has been proposed for the College of Business Administration. This proposal would permit the university to offer work leading to the Master of Business Administration degree. The proposal has been approved by the Graduate Committee, but must go to the Joint Council and the State Board of Education for approval.

The College of Business Administration moved into new facilities in early June. The first classes met in this building during the summer of 1970.

College of Education uses micro-teaching in teacher preparation

The Micro-teaching laboratory began being used extensively during 1971. Through micro-teaching the student is given the opportunity to practice teaching techniques with a small group. The student is video taped while he attempts his lesson plan, and later he is critiqued by graduate assistants over closed circuit television.

The College of Education is offering a new degree program Ed.S., education specialist, which is a degree between the master's and doctor's providing for a high level of specialization. Tech is one of four colleges offering the degree in Tennessee.

900 persons attend Engineer's Day

Again the College of Engineering held its annual open house, known as Engineer's Day, a form of tribute to George Washington, this nation's first engineer.

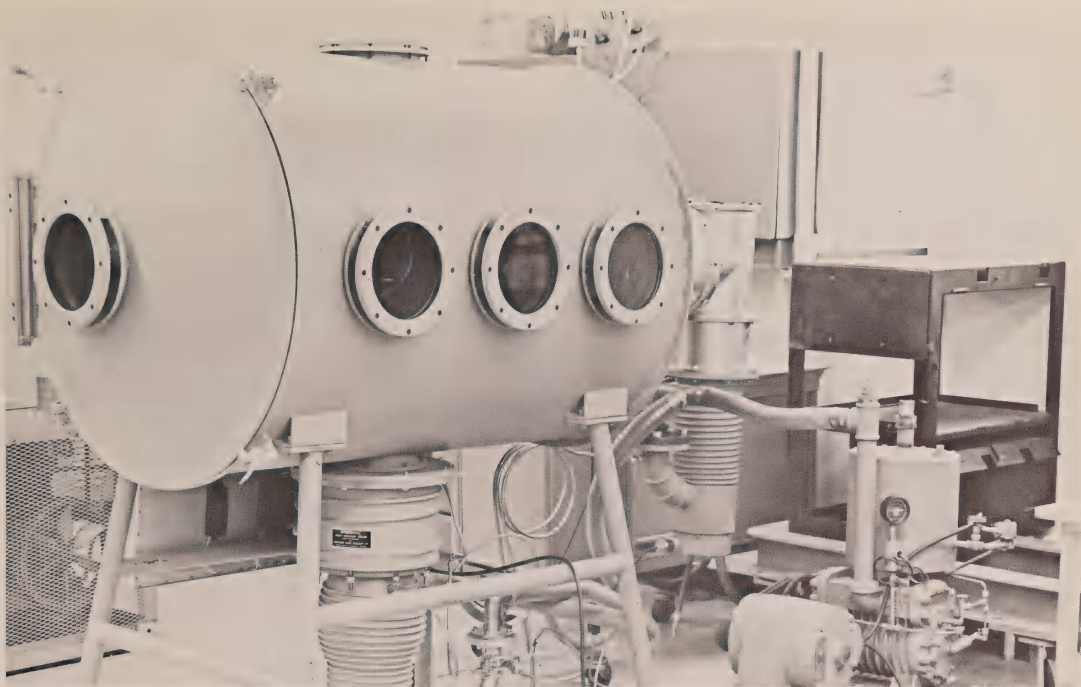

Sponsored by the National Society of Professional Engineers, the event had as its theme "Engineering to improve the quality of life." Many displays stressed methods of controlling various forms of pollution. Some 900 high school students and other persons attended.

Tech graduates more engineers than any other school in Tennessee and more than many of the other engineering schools in the nation. Full time enrollment during winter quarter in the College of Engineering was 1,236, second to the College of Education with 1,394.

School of Agriculture, Home Economics expand programs

The School of Home Economics has an enrollment of 200 majors and provides service courses for approximately 700 students majoring in other fields. This year two city student teaching centers have been added for those obtaining teacher certification. This gives the student an opportunity to live and teach for one quarter in an inner city environment. In other courses students are given the chance to observe and work with family members of various ages in both government and private sponsored agencies.

The School of Agriculture with newly appointed Dean Sumner A. Griffin is composed of three departments—general agriculture, agronomy, and animal husbandry. The school now offers eight areas of study.

Co-op plans major expansion program

Dr. Wallace Prescott listens as consultant Dr. Roy Wooldridge (center) talks with William Patterson.

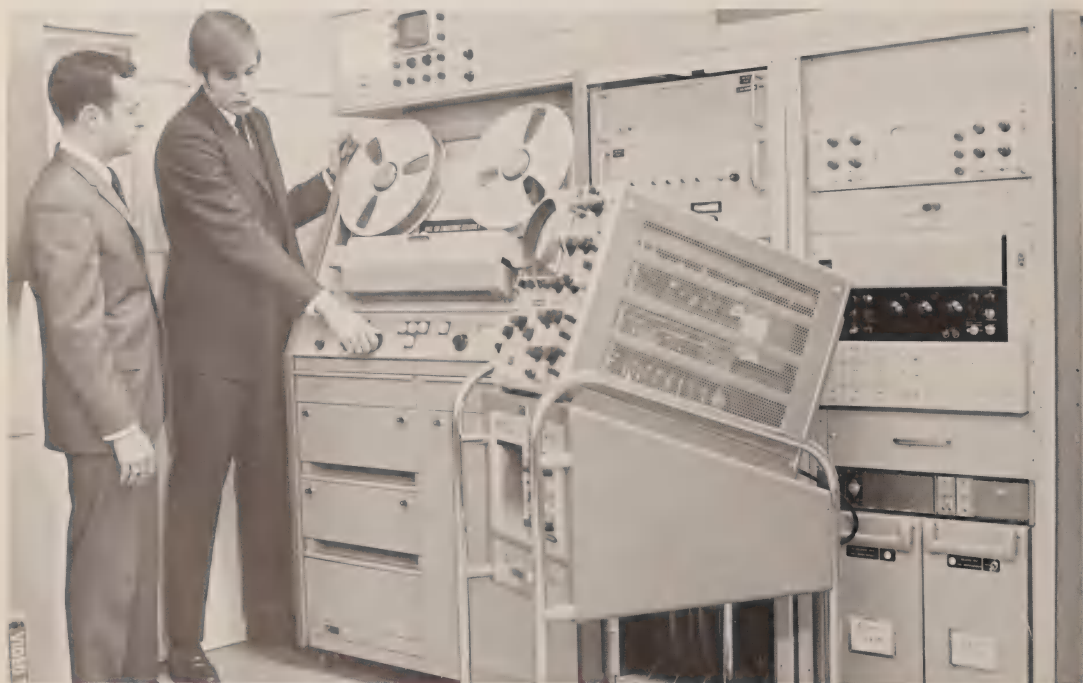

Expansion was the keynote in Tech's co-operative education program during the winter quarter as plans began to take a definite form for wider campus involvement in co-op.

Dean Roy L. Wooldridge, vice-president and dean of co-operative education at Northwestern University in Boston, visited Tech in February to assist with problems being encountered in expansion. Dean Wooldridge pointed out during several conferences that Tech's practice of placing students on co-op for a full year was unique in the United States.

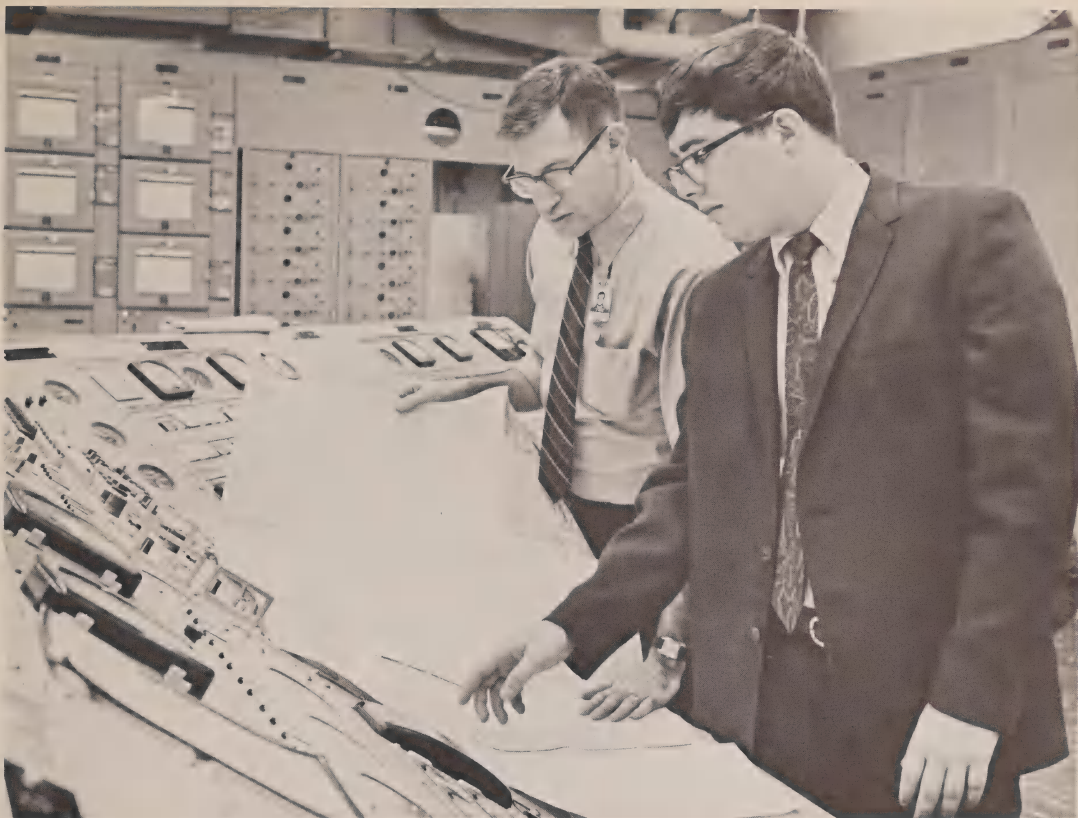

Shortly after Dean Wooldridge's visit, Dr. Irvin Miller from the University of Houston was invited to visit Tech to discuss problems encountered in co-op work.

Plans call for expansion of co-op work into all five colleges of the University, especially into the College of Arts and Science. Approximately 100 Tech students were on co-op assignment at one time during 1971.

Larry Hester of Cookeville was named Co-op Coordinator in March to assist William Patterson, Co-Op director.

John Tittle works with reactive power curves to aid distributors in deciding on power capacitors.

Jim Steelman is one of many co-op students who have worked at Huntsville's Redstone Arsenal.

The Dingo Man.
He's no ordinary Joe.

Boots are his thing.
They're part of his image.
He knows just how to wear boots.
With style.
He knows when to wear them too.
Whenever he feels like it.

But don't try to con
The Dingo Man into a boot made by a shoemaker.
His boots are real.

The label inside all of them
reads "Dingo."

If you don't believe us, ask any girl Joe Namath knows.

Who's An Intellectual Snob?

THE ORACLE/EAGLE STUDENT PUBLICATIONS

A newspaper and a yearbook that are rated A-plus nationally and that send top-notch reporters to Newsweek, The Houston Post and The Army Times acquire a certain luster that could be called pride or even snobbishness.

Week after week, THE ORACLE previews campus issues of local and national importance before they become prominent or while other campus publications are still thinking about them.

THE EAGLE highlights the year's activities through excellent photography and creative reporting.

Is this snobbish? Maybe. But it makes great conversation. Besides, THE ORACLE and THE EAGLE probably are the only snobbish pleasures you can enjoy for no pence at all.

A state-supported university offering the degrees of Bachelor of Arts, Bachelor of Science, Master of Arts, Master of Science, and Education Specialist Degree, with high academic standards, a well trained faculty, and many new plant facilities.

A convenient location in the midst of a diversified recreational and scenic area. An outstanding R.O.T.C. program.

Splendid training at low cost in five undergraduate colleges—Business Administration, Agriculture and Home Economics, Education, Arts and Sciences, and Engineering (including strong pre-professional curricula)—and the Graduate School.

Emphasis upon a student-centered program and particular attention to the individual on one of America's friendliest campuses.

Tuition free to residents of Tennessee.

"You all remember Sherman's march through Georgia; well, this is Hogan's march through 103 chemistry!" Garry Hogan, March 30, 1971.

This book shows how Tech students are involved with their world. Becoming involved is not an easy thing to do. Many students seem content to take a back seat and let others make the decisions. It is easy to talk about involvement; and for some it is easy to volunteer to be involved with others, but when the time comes for action too many get lost along the way. In our generation we must become involved. It will be too late if we keep waiting for tomorrow before we take the first step.
